HALT-WAR DEBATE BEGINS

HAIR IS TOO LONG

Pfc. Robert W. Ledder, 22, of Rocky Hill, Conn., says he was "fired" from his Pentagon job and given orders for Europe because of what the Army called "his unsoldierly and unprofessional appearance." A spokesman said this means his hair was too long.

3 Men Jailed In Bank Heist

Fremont (AP) — Three men were arrested near Fontanelle Thursday in connection with a holdup at the Arlington State Bank earlier in the day.

The three men, identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as Robert Flynn, 27, of Los Angeles, and Joseph James Carillo, 24, and Jack Leroy Holebek, 35, both of Omaha, were jailed in Fremont.

The State Patrol had reported earlier the recovery of a car, believed to have been used as a getaway car in the holdup. The patrol said the vehicle, a 1960 Ford, still had the engine running when it was discovered, two miles south of Fontanelle, which is about six miles north of Arlington.

The FBI said the car was stolen in Omaha on Monday.

Bank President C. W. Rockwell said the amount of money taken hadn't been determined, but it would be more than $12,000. Other police sources said the amount was $42,600.

Street Nearly Deserted

About the time the bandits were at the bank, the Arlington Volunteer Fire Department was called to put out a blaze at the Washington County fairgrounds at the west end of town, across town from the bank. The street was nearly deserted at the time of the holdup.

Rockwell said this was the first robbery in the 50 years he has been affiliated with the bank. It has assets in excess of $2.8 million.

Rockwell said "three men came in here and ordered us all on the floor, cleaned out the safe and the money drawers and everything. They were all masked except one, he looked a little bit of Mexican or from foreign nationality."

Major John Ayers of the State Patrol said the men were captured at 2:30 p.m. by a Douglas County sheriff's deputy with the help of a state trooper, a Fremont policeman and a dog.

Ayers said that the men did not have any weapons or money in their possession at the time they were captured but that a search turned up two bags containing a "large amount" of money along with three guns, clothing and masks.

The FBI said U.S. Atty. Richard Dier of Omaha had authorized the filing of federal bank robbery charges against each of the men. The suspects will be brought before a U.S. magistrate in Omaha for arraignment.

ARMY CLUB GRAFT . . .

Sergeant Found Guilty Of Theft

Redstone Arsenal, Ala. (AP) — M. Sgt. William Higdon was convicted Thursday of stealing $7,200 in cigarette promotion funds and accepting $723 in kickbacks while running Army clubs in Vietnam. He was given a dishonorable discharge and fined $25,000.

The military jury of five officers, which returned its guilty verdict earlier in the day, did not impose a jail sentence. He could have been sentenced to a maximum of eight years imprisonment.

"I am very disappointed," Higdon told newsmen afterwards.

"I've been a soldier over 24 years — and until after the appeal process I am still a soldier."

Pay Forfeiture

The jury also sentenced Higdon to forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

The sentence is subject to automatic appeal through military channels.

The jury received the case Wednesday and returned its verdict shortly before noon Thursday, after about eight hours of deliberations.

The jury convicted Higdon, 41, of East Point, Ga., of stealing the $7,200 in cigarette promotion funds due the clubs at Long Binh, and with taking $723 in kickbacks.

$25,000 In Kickbacks

Under the Army bribery-graft statute, Higdon was charged in three specifications with taking more than $25,000 in kickbacks, but the jury convicted him of one violation.

Glen D. Faulks of Bangkok, Thailand, testified for the prosecution during the month-long trial that he gave Higdon $7,200 for the clubs as part of a promotion program devised by the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The money, he said, was to be used by the clubs to buy promotional cigarettes for soldiers.

Front Name

Faulks testified that Higdon had him make out checks to Georg Schell, a name the government alleged was used by the sergeant to hide theft and graft.

Two of the promotional checks later were traced by the Army to the bank account of Maredem Ltd., whose activities were examined by a Senate subcommittee during its investigation of corruption and fraud in the clubs.

The investigation provided the basis for the charges against Higdon, who testified before the panel when it held hearings.

A witness in Higdon's courtmartial testified that Higdon was a Maredem partner.

Refrigeration Contract

Edward J. Kowatch of Manila, president of Universial Consultants Inc., testified in the trial that Higdon demanded kickbacks in exchange for granting his company a refrigeration maintenance contract.

He testified that the $723 represented 10% of one month's billing by the company under the contract and that his arrangement with Higdon called for the sergeant to receive 10% of all income derived under the contract.

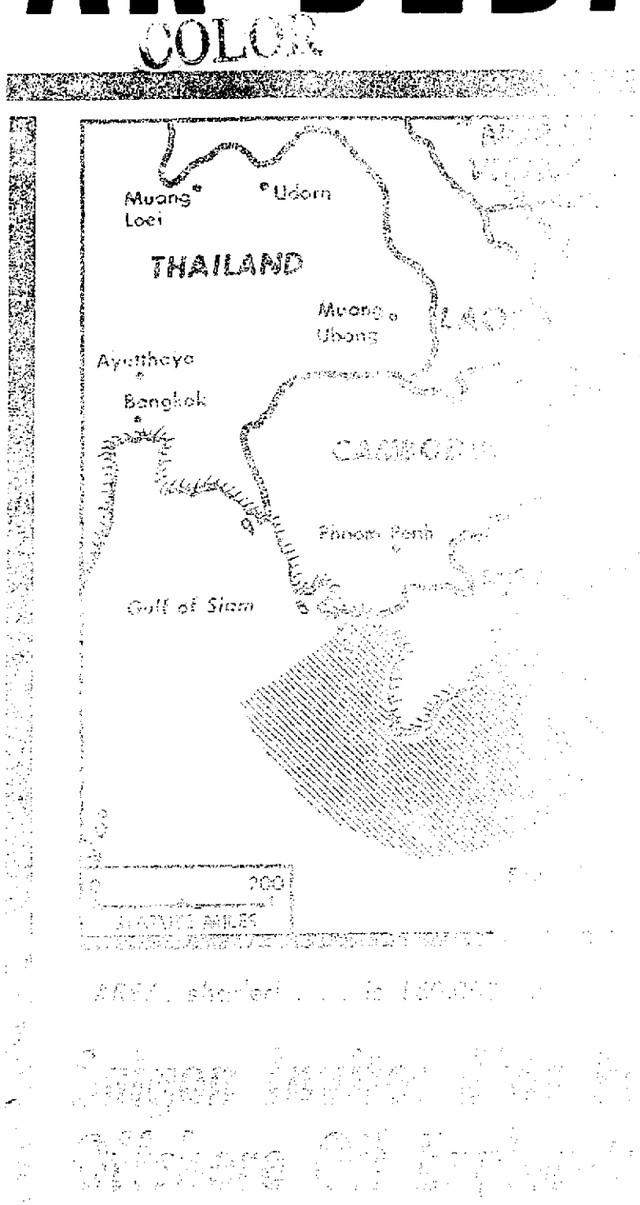

Faulks and Kowatch were the government's key witnesses.

Higdon, a veteran of 24 years in the Army, is one of eight persons now under federal indictment in Los Angeles charging that they conspired to defraud the club system through Maredem.

Also under indictment in the case is former sergeant major of the Army William Wooldridge. The sergeant major also testified before the Senate subcommittee in the fall of 1969.

Higdon is the only soldier to be courtmartialed on charges arising from the subcommittee investigation.

Pretrial hearings in the conspiracy case are scheduled to begin in August.

Saigon (UPI) —South Vietnam will accept open bids late this year for oil exploration of its continental shelf in the South China Sea, it was announced Thursday.

More than 30 oil companies, most of them Japanese and American, have expressed interest in petroleum exploration offshore from the resort city of Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

Economy Minister Pham Kim Ngoc told a news conference Thursday that bids will be accepted only from oil companies which comply with government requirements based on international standards.

There is no guarantee that oil deposits will be large enough to justify drilling expenses, but the companies want to make prospective bids.

Ngoc's announcement followed several months of consultation between a government-sponsored national petroleum board and foreign experts.

Offshore oil drilling has met with considerable success in the seas around Indonesia, Borneo and the Malay peninsula.

(In Washington, Rep. Jim Abourezk, D-S.D., renewed his demands for an immediate congressional investigation of American oil interests in South Vietnam. "If Congress is going to investigate this matter, as I believe it should, this is the time to act," Abourezk said.)

Two Senators Hear Hatfield

. . . ALL 'TIRED OF WAR'

Washington (UPI) — The long-awaited Senate debate on proposed legislation to halt the Vietnam war by year's end opened Thursday with Sen. Mark O. Hatfield imploring his colleagues to "reawaken the conscience of America.

But 97 of the 100 seats were empty.

"Everybody is tired of the war, we all know that," the Oregon Republician said in defense of the amendment that he, Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and 28 others senators are sponsoring to prohibit U.S. combat in or over Vietnam after Dec. 31.

'Tired, Tired, Tired'

"Senators are tired of thinking about it, and speaking about it. The press is tired of writing about it. People are tired of reading about it — tired of seeing it on TV. We all just wish it would go away.

"But being tired about a war, and wanting to forget about it, will not stop it; in fact, it will make it easy for it to quietly go on. It becomes an innocuous, tolerable 'Page 12' war that kills only 30 Americans every week, that costs only $10-$12 billion a year, that requires only 100,000 or 50,000 or 40,000 American troops — and never stops."

Urging rejection of the amendment, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said, "I think we'll have to tough it out . . . .

"If we come out now," he added," . . . we could set a precedent of the United States once having put its hand to the plow and made a promise and didn't carry it out . . . set a precedent that it didn't go as far as it could.

"We would set a precedent that would haunt us for years to come," he added.

'Artificial Agitation'

Later in the day, Kansas Sen. Robert J. Dole, the Republican national chairman, argued that the Hatfield-McGovern amendment was simply "artificial agitation" and urged the Senate to get done with it and move on to "more important issues."

The list of amendment supporters, Dole said, reads like "a who's who of has beens, would-be's, professional second-guessers and apologists for the policies which would lead us into this tragic conflict in the first place."

He suggested that they "salve their consciences . . . in private commisseration with each other."

Ted's Remarks Prepared

But Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in prepared remarks charged that the Nixon administration has "grossly misled our nation's people on the tempo of the war and disguised the continuing violence and widening character of the conflict" in Indochina.

Beyond that, said Kennedy, the administration "consistently exploited the helpless plight of American prisoners, so as to beat the war drum in Southeast Asia."

As Hatfield spoke, only Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana — in his seat on the aisle — and Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia, the Democratic whip, were present to listen.

Above them, the spectator galleries also were sparsely filled, but the few onlookers leaned forward to hear the youthful Hatfield as he recalled how the Senate rejected a similar "end-the-war" amendment last September.

Three Twisters Sighted In State

By United Press International

Three tornadoes were sighted in southwest Nebraska Thursday evening during the second straight night of severe weather in the state.

Only one of the twisters touched down, reportedly taking out power poles about three miles north of McCook.

The others were sighted two miles east of McCook, and on the river bottom near Trenton. All were sighted between 9 and 10 p.m.

Aid OKd For Educating Public Housing Children

Washington (UPI) — The Senate unanimously approved a $5.6 billion school aid appropriations bill Thursday, exceeding President Nixon's request by nearly a half-billion dollars, and voted for the first time to compensate communities for educating children from public housing.

In a landmark decision, the Senate refused on a voice vote to eliminate from its version of the legislation a $60 million allowance activating the public housing provision which Congress authorized in 1969 but has never financed.

The money is part of the politically popular impacted aid program, which reimburses local school districts with heavy concentrations of federal employes and their dependents, such as military base communities. The senate voted $667.8 million for the program, compared to the administration's $237.5 million request.

The Senate Appropriations Committee added the $60 million to compensate localities for loss of tax revenues from federally supported public housing. The senate rejected a move to eliminate the money by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who said "it is very undesirable to vote on new programs at this time."

The full bill, approved on a 77-0 vote, was sent to a conference committee with the House, which has approved a school aid money bill smaller by $804 million and containing no funds for children from public housing.

DAVID M. STARR

Wisconsin Man Lincoln JA Head

David M. Starr of Delavan, Wis., has been hired as executive director of Junior Achievement of Lincoln. Starr, 28, will head the Junior Achievement program being organized for high school youth in Lancaster County.

Vance D. Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University, will act as chairman of the Junior Achievement fund drive. It is projected that $35,000 is necessary to finance the organization during its first year.

Officers of the Junior Achievement board of directors are Dan Remigio, chairman; Don Dischner, finance committee chairman, and James Bradley, secretary.

Members of the board are Glenn Chase, Collins Wilcox, Bill Johnston, Bill Fleischman, Mike Gaughan, Bill Marting, Jerry Sellentin, Dale Conyers, Ross Hecht, Bud Owens, Art Knox, Don Ferguson, John Beckwith, Dale Janssen, Ed Reinero and Bud Callahan.

The Junior Achievement program, operating in more than 150 communities throughout the nation, offers young people a chance to learn about the operations of business by setting up small companies of their own.

Winter Wheat Coming Strong; Acre Yield Record Possibility

From Press Reports

Federal crop observers said Thursday Nebraska's winter wheat crop is coming on strong and may be headed for a new all-time per acre yield record, or equal to it.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, in its monthly estimates, upped expectations from a third highest yield of last month to at least equal to last year's all-time record.

And Norman Beller, head of the state-federal division of agricultural statistics in Lincoln said the 38 bushels an acre record could be topped.

"Yes, it's within the realm of possibility," he said.

38 Per Acre

The official estimates based on June 1 field conditions, indicate total production would be 96,216,000 bushels for at least the 38 an acre yield.

"We've just had beautiful weather this month," Beller said.

And if the ideal weather continues "there's no telling what will happen" to the final tabulation when the crop is harvested he added.

Last month's lower estimates was based on the average conditions encountered during May, Beller said.

"But certainly this past month has not been average," he said.

"The crop started out with good stands, we got the moisture and this has allowed the crop to really come on strong," he added.

Heading is already reported in some of the southern counties and so far little damage from storms has occured while there appears to be little disease damage, the observer added.

Nationally the Agriculture Department estimated the 1971 crop of winter wheat at 1,048,134,000 bushels, 6% less than last year but 3% more than predicted in May.

Improved Proposals

The Crop Reporting Board said the June forecast was 28 million bushels more than the May estimate, mainly because of improved prospects in Nebraska, Colorado, South Dakota, the Pacific Northwest and in Eastern corn-belt states.

Wheat prospects improved slightly in Texas but deteriorated in Okalhoma, the report said.

Last year the winter wheat crop totaled 1,118,039,000 bushels and averaged a record 33.4 bushels per acre. The 1971 forecast calls for a yield of 32.1 per acre, based on June 1 field conditions.

Production estimates of 1971-crop durum and other spring wheat will not be made until July. Earlier projections based on planted acreages, however, indicated an output of 367 million bushels allowing for average yields.

Added to the June winter wheat estimate, that would mean a total of U.S. wheat crop this year of about 1,415,134,000 bushels. Last year the output was 1,378,465,000 bushels.

The record wheat crop was nearly 1.6 billion bushels in 1968.

20,000 Free Swim Tickets Requested

The Park and Recreation Board Thursday recommended to the mayor that 20,000 free swim tickets be distributed to low income children.

The request for free swim tickets for the low income had come from Lincoln Action Program (LAP) and Indian Center representatives.

Recreation Superintendent Dick Leker said the tickets will be provided for the two groups to distribute to those qualifying as low income. No decision was made on how the tickets would be split between the two organizations.

According to Leker, additional free swim tickets may become available if the city receives this summer a $29,000 federal grant from the U.S. Labor Department for recreational activities.

Nixon Ends 21-Year Ban On Trade With China

(c) New York Times News Service

Washington — President Nixon Thursday ended a 21-year embargo on trade with the People's Republic of China. He authorized the export of 47 categories of nonstrategic items. (More on Page 2.)

Mills, Key Demos Huddle

Washington — Key Democratic officeholders from around the nation were disclosed to have met secretly Wednesday in Washington with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills to hear Mills's alternative to the administration's general revenue-sharing plan. The Mills plan would give financial aid only to cities not states and other governmental units, and would cost less than the administration plan.

Ky, Minh Make Deal

Saigon — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam was said to have negotiated an alliance with Gen. Duong Van Minh under which the potential presidential candidates will help each other obtain the endorsements required by a new, restrictive electoral law.

Leftists Say CIA Involved

Santiago — The two main parties in Chile's leftwing coalition government charged that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency was involved in the assassination Tuesday of a prominent right-wing politician. (More on Page 2.)

FHA Said Maintaining Segregation

Washington — By delegating much of its responsibility in the new home ownership program for low-income families to the private housing and home finance industry, the Federal Housing Administration has been perpetuating segregation, the Commission on Civil Rights charged. (More on Page 16.)

Cancer Agreement Reached

Washington — An agreement that the nation's cancer research effort should have a separate budget, be headed by someone responsible directly to the President and be considered administratively part of the National Institutes of Health seemed to have been reached by the administration and Senate proponents of an independent cancer agency.

FTC Wants Advertising Truth

Washington — The Federal Trade Commission said it would begin a program of asking for substantiation for all advertising claims made for major products. (More on Page 20.)

McCarthy May Participate

New York — Former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said he might participate in a third-party movement next year or enter some Democratic presidential primaries to try to win enough delegates to have some influence at the party's national convention. One 1972 primary he mentioned was New York's.

Hudson County Officials Indicted

Jersey City, N.J. — All five members of the Hudson County Pension Commission and the county's medical examiner were indicted by a special grand jury on charges that they awarded $393,000 in fraudulent disability pensions to 100 county employes over a three-year period. The indictments follow other investigations and charges against county and Jersey City officials during the past 18 months.

Nixon Lifts Ban On China Trade

World News

Washington (UPI) — President Nixon Thursday lifted a 21-year-old ban on export of a long list of goods to China, from automobiles and air conditions to road-building equipment, and ordered a surprise end to restrictions on wheat sales to Russia.

The White House said Nixon viewed his new China trade policy as "a significant step to improve communications with a land of 800 million people." But other officials cautioned against expecting any dramatic upsurge in exports, which totaled only $50 million when the embargo went into effect in 1950.

The embargo will continue for such specific items as petroleum products, certain navigation and telecommunications equipment and heavy duty welding equipment, said G. Winthrop Brown, deputy assistant secretary of state for East Asia and the Pacific.

But Brown said, in response to newsmen's questions, that applications for sale of commercial jet aircraft and locomotive engines for example would be "certainly considered" by the Commerce Department on an individual basis, and would be granted depending on "circumstances of the time."

Depends On Security

The White House said those circumstances would depend on "the requirements of U.S. national security." Brown said the exempted list announced Thursday "took into view the different levels of technology" of the two countries and which items the Chinese actually could use.

In an unexpected move, Nixon revoked a Kennedy administration requirement that half of all wheat and other grain shipments to the Soviet Union and East European countries move in American-flag ships.

There was no official explanation for the action, which also applies to China, but many agricultural groups and leading farm bloc legislators have been urging it to make the United States more competitive with Canada, which sells substantial amounts of wheat to both Communist areas.

Meany Criticizes It

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO criticized Nixon's decision not to require that 50% of the grain be moved on American-flag ships, calling it "a breach of faith and an unwarranted blow at the livelihoods of American seafaring men."

U.S. wheat sales to the Soviets have been negligible because the Russians were unwilling to pay the higher costs of shipping aboard American merchant vessels. They signed a $235 million wheat deal with Canada last October.

Brown said Nationalist China was informed in advance of the new free-trade list. Asked whether other exporting countries were notified, he said the only one with substantial trade with China was Japan, and "I don't think they are concerned in any way with competition from us."

As for Peking, he said, "we can't predict what their reaction would be. We hope it would be favorable."

Brown refused to say whether the list would be relayed directly to Chinese officials in Peking or Warsaw, the site of past diplomatic contacts between the two countries.

The list included such nonstrategic items, as most farm, fish and forestry products, fertilizers, textile yarns, rubber, medicines and drugs, most common metals, basic electrical, industrial and office equipment, plumbing equipment, passenger cars and motorcycles, home radio and television receivers, household appliances, unsophisticated computers and highway rollers, pavers and finishers.

Questions of market demand aside, Chinese customers for U.S. goods would have to make payment in cash from other export sales because their currency is not freely convertible. Also, the U.S. Export-Import Bank is prohibited by law from extending commercial credits to any Communist country.

POW Talks Promised If Leaving Date Is Set

©The New York Times

Paris — The Vietnamese Communists said Thursday that if the United States set a withdrawal date, they would immediately discuss a full exchange of prisoners without relation to any other questions.

The statement, at a news conference following the 116th session of the Paris peace conference, was a belated reply to frequent warnings by United States spokesmen that the Communists would use prisoner discussions to raise new demands — "selling the same cow twice."

The Communists declined either to confirm or deny statements attributed to them implying that the American prisoners would be released soon after a withdrawal pledge was obtained. But Duong Dinh Thau, spokesman for the provisional revolutionary government of South Vietnam, said that if recent American visitors here had left affirming "our goodwill and flexibility" on the issue, then "they are right."

Clifford Statements

The response, echoed in slightly different terms by the spokesman for Hanoi, was the most specific one reporters could elicit to questions about statements by former defense secretary Clark M. Clifford and Rep. Robert Leggett, D-Calif.

Clifford said he had reason to believe that American prisoners would be released within 30 days of a Washington commitment to withdraw all forces by Dec. 31. Leggett, following a visit here, said a South Vietnamese Communist official had promised to release all Americans before the termination of an agreed withdrawal.

Ambassador David Bruce, in a prepared statement at Thursday's session of the Vietnam talks, warned the Communists that "indiscriminate shellings" such as that of Da Nang last week "violate the understandings reached in 1968" to end the bombing of North Vietnam. One understanding then was said to be that the Communists would refrain from shelling cities in South Vietnam.

54 Said Killed

"The consequences of these attacks are your responsibility," he said ". . . You may think that such an increase in violence will be to your advantage. Such an assumption would be mistaken."

Fifty-four civilians were said to have been killed or wounded in the shellings.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, South Vietnamese Communist delegate to the talks, retorted that this was a "shameless calumny" and that "the forces of liberation punished the Americans in their base itself."

Inhumane Position

Bruce, head of the American delegation to the talks, devoted most of his prepared statement to what he described as an inhumane and intransigent Communist position on the prisoner question. Referring to "unclear and even inconsistent" statements attributed to them outside the talks, he invited the Communists to confirm and clarify them.

At the end, he said, he had received no answer and the Communists had said nothing new. A spokesman said later that the other side had made no response to U.S. suggestions for restricted sessions to explore the questions in secret.

At news briefings, the Communists again avoided an explicit promise to release the prisoners at a given time.

Chilean Reds, Socialists See CIA Hand In Killing

Santiago, Chile (UPI) — The Communist and Socialist Parties, the two most powerful groups in Chile's left-wing government, charged Thursday that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency was behind the assassination of a former Chilean vice president.

Stories of "seditious plots" financed by the CIA appear almost daily in leftist newspapers which support Marxist President Salvador Allende's administration. But Thursday's claims came in formal statements from the political commissions of both parties.

In Washington, a CIA spokesman called the charges "nonsense," and the State Department said the allegations were "totally without foundation."

The charges indicated deep concern among the Communists and Socialists about a possible open split between the Allende government and the powerful Christian Democrat Party, following the assassination of Edmundo Perez Zujovic.

Perez Zujovic, 59, was interior minister and vice president in the previous Christian Democratic government of President Eduardo Frei.

He was ambushed in his car in a suburban part of the capital by three young men in another vehicle. One of them killed him with a burst of submachine-gun fire at point-blank range Tuesday.

Police said the assassination was carried out by an ultra-left group called the Organized Vanguard of the People.

The Christian Democrats, the biggest opposition party in Chile, and the right-wing National Party charged Allende's toleration of armed leftist groups led to Perez Zujovic's murder.

Euromart In 'Concession'

©The New York Times

Brussels — The European Economic Community made a "gesture" Thursday to meet U.S. criticism of the effect its protectionist agricultural policy has on American food exports to the six-nation organization. The new move affects oranges, tobacco, chicken and lard.

Announcing what he called a "unilateral, unconditional" concession, Rolf Dahrendorf of the nine-man Common Market Commission told Undersecretary of State Nathaniel Samuels that the EEC will cut from 15% to 8% the tariff it imposes on oranges it imports.

This cut will only apply in June through September, but 80% of the $7.7 million worth of oranges imported yearly into the EEC comes from the U.S. during these months.

In a move designed to end the running battle between Europe and the United States in their attempts to sell chicken and lard to third countries, the six EEC members promised to cut subsidies they pay to exporters selling chicken to the Far East and states in the Persian Gulf. In return they hope that the United States will cut its subsidies on chicken exports to Switzerland and Greece.

Stock Industry Said In Danger

. . . State Cattlemen Warned

By DOMINICK COSTELLO
Farm Editor

Grand Island — Several hundred well-tanned ranchers and farmers are gathered here for the first joint meeting of the Sandhills Cattle Association and the Nebraska Stock Growers Association.

The cattlemen were warned that the future of the livestock industry is in danger from at least two directions.

Mickey Stewart of Alliance, speaking for the Stock Growers meat promotion committee, displayed a two-page magazine ad for an artificial hamburger and pointed to the market testing being done in the Denver, Colo., area for a tradename's patties and links.

"There is not one bit of meat in any of these products," said Stewart. "This problem is not a problem that is coming tomorrow, next week or next year — it is here today. We have got to get more money into meat promotion now."

Stewart urged that every member of both organizations ask their livestock buyers to deduct and send ahead for the national meat board promotion program. "If we don't send in our dimes now, it will take dollars to win back a market we never should have lost," he warned.

Under the program half of the money would be used for the national promotion of beef products. The other half would be returned to the Nebraska Livestock Foundation for promotion and research activities.

Labor Legislation

Howard Leach, president of Tejon Ranch Company in Pebble Beach, Calif., asked the Nebraska ranchers for their support in getting new farm labor legislation passed.

"We can live with a labor contract if we can eliminate the secondary boycott," said Leach. "You may think the farm labor issue won't affect you, but it can affect the livestock industry.

"If your livestock buyer is forced to handle only union label meat, you will have to join the union to sell your livestock," said Leach. He suggested that each state develop its own anti-boycott law.

"I believe this will lead to federal legislation to put the farm labor issue on a basis that is fair to labor and to the farmer," he said.

A series of resolutions is to be presented to the joint meeting Friday afternoon dealing with aid to education, livestock laws, meat promotion and a host of other problems affecting farmers and ranchers.

Lester Barrett Is Bound Over In Murder Case

Fremont (AP) — Lester Lee Barrett, 39, of Fremont was bound over to District Court on a first degree murder charge Thursday for the May 26 shooting of Sam Faeller, 26, in a Fremont truck repair shop.

At the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace G. Michael Wiseman, the state presented only two witnesses, Don Lynch, who said he was in the repair shop at the time of the shooting, and Fremont Policeman G. R. Peterson, who said he arrived shortly afterward.

Barrett, who was represented by a court appointed attorney, William G. Line, presented no evidence.

Lindsay Highway Closed By Water

Highway 91, west of Lindsay, remained closed late Thursday due to high water following heavy rains in the area Wednesday.

A spokesman said the road should be open for traffic Friday.

Earlier Thursday Highway 121 south of Wausa was reopened after water receded there.

Meanwhile, the National Weather Service office at Norfolk warned of the possibility of flash flooding on streams in northeast Nebraska.

Observers at the Norfolk bureau said larger streams, the Elkhorn and North Fork rivers, will rise but only lowland flooding was expected to the east of Norfolk.

In southwest Nebraska farmers were assessing crop damage from hailstones as large as baseballs in the areas of Brandon, Grant and Madrid.

One report said hail wiped out 80% of the crops on the farm of Mrs. Violet Schmitt, south of Brandon.

Nebraska Postmasters Tab Oshkosh Man As President

During the final day of activities Thursday, the 36th annual Nebraska Association of Postmasters convention heard business session reports and held an election of officers.

Elected to one-year terms were James R. Haddix of Oshkosh, president; Elroy Bartels of Tobias, first vice president; Mrs. Edna Roesch of Whitman, second vice president and Jack Gemmell of Ogallala, secretary-treasurer.

The appointive post of editor was filled by Russell Dow of Indianola and Adeline Breslin of Newcastle was appointed historian.

The four-day convention at the Lincoln Hotel ended with a banquet Thursday evening.

Wheat Research Report Planned

McCook (UPI) — A Colorado soil scientist will inform Nebraska-Wyoming Wheat Growers Association members of research on high protein wheat on June 21, it was announced.

The McCook-based association said the speaker for the meeting, to be held at the Ramada Inn at Ogallala, will be T. V. Martin.

Air Show Slated During Dedication Of Ord Runway

Ord (AP) — A 4,000-foot hard surfaced runway at Ord's municipal airport which cost $160,000 to build, will be dedicated Sunday June 20 with an air show and exhibits.

State Sen. Rudolph Kokes of Ord and a repesentative of the State Aeronautics Department will speak at the 2 p.m. dedication.

Entertainment will include aerobatics, sky diving, model plane flying and a display of antique planes, weather permitting.

A fly-in for Flying Farmers and Ranchers together with a free breakfast also is planned.

Meyer Given Optometrist Of Year Title

Hastings (AP) — Dr. Rudy Meyer of Lincoln, a former president of the Nebraska Optometric Association, has been selected as Nebraska's optometrist of the year.

The organization cited Dr.

Meyer for his many years of service as a member of the State Board of Professional Examiners for Optometrists. He also is active in Lincoln civic affairs.

1,100th Birthday

Oslo — The Norwegian Post Office has issued two stamps to commemorate the 1,100th anniversary of the city of Tonsberg. The values are 70 and 100 ore.

Tragedy Strikes Benedict Farmer Twice In Week

York (AP) — Tragedy has struck Glenn A. Phillips of rural Benedict twice in less than a week.

Last Friday night a tornado struck his farm east of Benedict, heavily damaging machine sheds and equipment.

Wednesday, Phillips was injured in a tractor accident on a county road east of his home.

Authorities said Phillips was driving a farm tractor east on the road when the equipment he was pulling hooked a concrete bridge abutment and the tractor went into the south ditch and overturned.

Phillips is hospitalized in York.

He was reported in good condition at midday Thursday.

Sargent Youth Selected 1971 Outstanding Teen

An 18-year-old Sargent youth Thursday was presented a trophy by Gov. J. J. Exon for being selected Nebraska's outstanding teenager for 1971.

David Ray Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evans, will represent Nebraska in national competition with the stakes being a pair of $1,000 college scholarships.

Evans, who was nominated by his high school principal, said he plans to enter the University of Nebraska in the fall with aspirations of becoming an agriculture teacher or county agent.

Earlier Thursday, the governor chatted casually with a group of 10 Cub scouts from Steele City. The Cubs, accompanied by den mother Mrs. Beulah Bower, posed for pictures with Exon, climaxing a one-day trip to Lincoln.

Rural Health Plan Expands

By the Associated Press

The University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha is now undertaking a "more extensive" rural health program than the school has attempted in the past, NU officials said Thursday.

Officials said the school's agreement with the hospital now being built in Broken Bow is more far-reaching in its program than other medical center agreements with rural Nebraska hospitals.

The basis of the program is a training program through which medical center personnel will aid in training medical personnel at the Broken Bow Hospital.

Medical Center president Dr. Cecil Wittson said the purpose of the program is "facilitating the availability and accessibility of health services in a representative rural area through the cooperative efforts of federal, state and local governments and the university, individual doctors, and other private sectors."

York Presbyterians Critical Of $10,000 Gift To Miss Davis

York (AP) — The First United Presbyterian Church of York has disagreed sharply with the $10,000 gift made to the defense fund of black militant Angela Davis by the Council of Churches and Race of the church's general assembly.

At a meeting of the session a resolution was unanimously adopted recommending to the Nebraska City Presbytery that the fund for Miss Davis be abolished.

The session also resolved that hereafter the York Church should designate the use of its general mission gifts "for support of these persons, causes and movements which strengthen the life of the church and are worthy of its support in the name of Christ."

In recommending that legal aid be abolished, the resolution said it violates the doctrine of separation of church and state and "is in opposition to the confidence we have in our form of legal justice."

The resolution said the session believes "it is actions of this nature that are contributing to the decline in church membership and church giving," and declared there are more worthy areas of need within the church where the money could be expended.

Congress Asked To Rename Halsey Forest For McKelvie

Washington (AP)—Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., has asked Congress to rename the Nebraska National Forest near Halsey for the late Samuel Roy McKelvie, governor of the state from 1919 to 1923.

McKelvie, who died in 1956 at age 74, was known as an innovator in state government. He also was a successful businessman whose exploits included building the Nebraska Farmer into one of the largest agricultural publications in the United States.

Martin said that "while the younger generation may not recall the name, Sam McKelvie was one of the most important individuals in the history of the state."

The congressman noted that McKelvie, a Republican, pioneered the cabinet-like form of state goverment, providing that all agencies, departments, bureaus and commission be financed through the executive budget and be held answerable to the governor. Behind his leadership, Nebraska was considered a model for other states which followed.

Ashland House Badly Damaged

Ashland (AP) — An explosion in the kitchen of an Ashland dwelling Wednesday caused extensive damage to the home, but no one was in it at the time of the blast.

Archie Righthouse, chief of Ashland's Fire Department, said it was a gas explosion, but the cause was not announced pending an investigation by People's Gas Co., a division of Northern Natural Gas Co.

The home was rented by Harold Keyser, 23, and his wife Mary Jane, 20. The couple has a 19-month-old daughter.

Senate OKs Bill To Split Money For Iowa Tribe

Washington (UPI) — The Senate passed a bill to split up the money awarded for five different claims by the Iowa Tribe of Kansas and Nebraska and the Iowa Tribe of Oklahoma.

The two groups won the award jointly from the Indian Claims Commission and legislation was heeded to divide it. The judgments total $5,831,902, including some interest.

The bill, passed in slightly different version in the House, would give 61.29% of the judgment to the Iowa Tribe of Kansas and Nebraska and 38.71% to the Iowa Tribe of Oklahoma.

The bill specifies the money can be spent for anything the tribes and the interior secretary approve.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Reports show that an additional 110,221 Nebraskans will be eligible to vote in national election races in Nebraska in 1972. They are the 18-to-21-year-olds who, under prior federal regulations, would not yet have been eligible to vote.

It is possible, by changes in either federal or state regulations, that this group could even vote in statewide contests, depending upon final determination of proposed federal and state constitutional provisions. It is interesting to speculate on the difference this might make in the parties.

These young voters will undoubtedly distribute themselves in terms of registration fairly evenly between the Democratic and Republican parties. If past trends hold true, Republican ranks would gain a slight advantage in their registration.

But these young voters might well bring a new influence upon their respective parties. They might well turn out to be voters less enamoured of party labels than has been the case in most of the past. It would seem that they might well challenge both parties to a higher degree of responsibility.

This is because they are not likely to be swayed by the kind of traditional loyalties that have been found to date in the parties. What they will be looking for is men of stature, with qualities of leadership and the ability to get things done. The man is likely to come first and the party label second.

In total numbers and if they all registered, these young people would constitute 10 per cent of the total voting force in our state. If they would get together in any kind of block, they could clearly determine the outcome of any election. That they would do this is obviously most unlikely but they could vote to a similar pattern on fundamental philosophical grounds.

We doubt that most of them will be looking for either more or less government as a matter of course or routine. What they will be looking at are programs, the means of making the society in which they live a little more constructive for all its members.

This does not by any stretch of the imagination mean that they will all be liberal, as our analysis might suggest. A good many of them will be conservative but conservatism is not automatically negativism.

Conservatives and liberals alike, for instance, might agree that improvement is needed in the distribution of health care throughout the land. They may differ only in the means of achieving such an end. The real conflict then would come with those who simply think that everything is all right as it now stands.

The findings on the number of young people coming into the voting pool as a result of the lowered voting age are the product of population research by the Democratic party. The Republican party is scheduled to concern itself with an attempt to determine the thinking of young people, especially their political attitudes.

Obviously, both parties are attune to the fact that they have a new age group to deal with in 1972. The world is not going to be turned upside down as a result of this new voting group but the party that ignores the situation will be on the downhill slide.

★

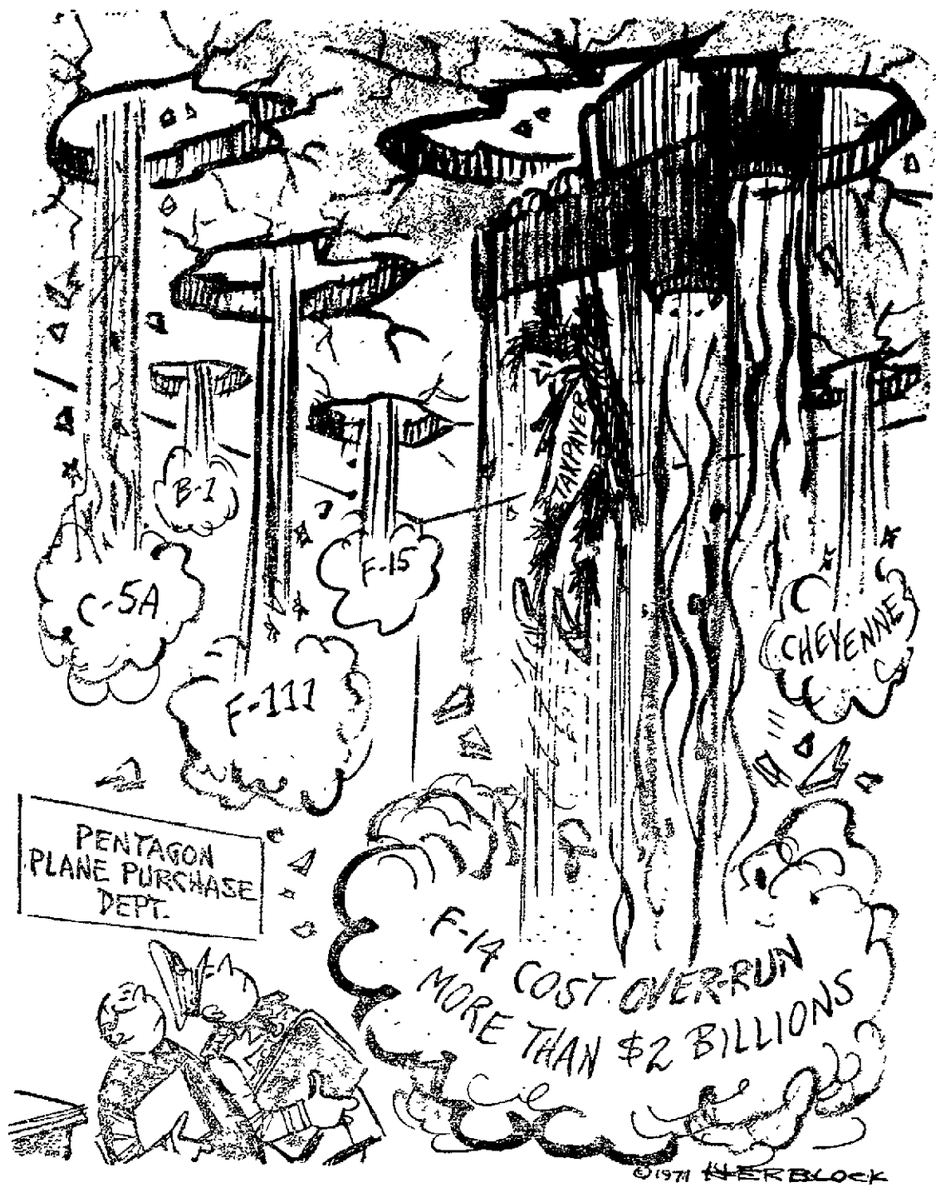

One mark of youth is that it generally likes to cut through the red tape and bureaucracy that often stand in the way of progress. Youth is not tradition-bound and such things as seniority could hardly mean less to them. Impatience is an ingredient they are likely to bring into the political processes with them and the system is pretty inclined in the other direction.

As an aside, it might be noted that federal leadership in lowering the voting age has not destroyed our federal system by giving the national government total control of local election machinery. But by the same token, popular election of the president could be achieved without any such change, too.

Who votes and how the votes are counted simply are not deciding factors in such a consideration. The important thing is the freedom of political choice and an elective system of reliability and integrity.

And the new young voters might well lend a lot of support to popular election proposals when half of them find out that their votes for president are totally meaningless in the nation's final selection of a man. The new voting group injects an exciting ingredient into our established political system.

'They All Seem To Have Vertical Takeoff Prices'

Clouding The Issue

The comment by the Republican national chairman, Sen. Robert Dole, that some Democrats are willing to "exceed the bounds of partisanship, reason and common decency in their efforts to downgrade the President and advance their own interests," should have been broadened to include just about everyone who has gotten into the prisoner-of-war controversy lately, including the White House itself.

Sen. Edward Kennedy set the tone Monday when he said the only possible excuse for continuing the policy of Vietnamizing the war "seems to be the President's intention to play his last great card for peace at a time closer to November 1972 . . ."

It's doubtful that the President would be that cynical. But he is deluding himself and the American public when he couples his Vietnamization and withdrawal policy with his intention to keep American forces in Vietnam indefinitely until all POWs are released. That policy can result only in keeping troops in South Vietnam and prisoners in North Vietnam forever.

Sen. Frank Moss, a Democrat, chimed in with the statement that "Mr. Nixon's handling of the prisoner-of-war question has been one of the most callous aspects of this dirty war." And Sen. Hubert Humphrey's response to the Kennedy statement and his tacit endorsement of the manner in which Nixon has dealt with the prisoner issue had a highly political flavor to it. Dole's charge missed the mark when it did not include administration spokesman Ron Ziegler, when he inferred that anyone not agreeing with the presidential policy is attempting to "exploit the prisoners of war for domestic political purposes."

The only person who should probably not be accused of playing politics is former Defense Secretary Clark Clifford, who started the latest row. Clifford said this week he has reason to believe from private discussions that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong would release American prisoners within 30 days of a withdrawal agreement. "The easy and direct way for the question to be settled," Clifford said later, "is for President Nixon to authorize a representative to submit this simple proposal to Hanoi and the NLF at once."

The proposal might as well be submitted. Whereas North Vietnam maintains its hardline position on the prisoners in light of Clifford's remarks, it has never been offered a direct proposal, either. The proposal of a definite withdrawal date, which the President surely must come to, or the maintenance of a small garrison in South Vietnam will not make a whit of difference to the future of South Vietnam.

Tuition Hikes Could Backfire

The whopping increase in nonresident tuition rates at the University of Nebraska's Omaha and Lincoln campuses will have the effect at Omaha of making the out-of-state student contribute more than his educational and general costs, thus actually subsidizing the costs of schooling for homestate students.

The increases might well have another result, that of keeping nonresident students away from NU in large numbers and thus diminishing the amount of tuition money the university has been budgeted for and needs.

When the Legislature's Budget Committee decided to boost the nonresident rates even higher than the NU Board of Regents had agreed to accept, it did so to raise what it estimated would be $700,000 more through tuition. The move was seen as a way to add to the stringent recommendations of Gov. J. J. Exon, while holding down the amount of appropriations from state tax monies.

NU budget officers admit they are greatly concerned about whether the school will be able to retain its already slim percentage of nonresident students. The Legislature, we believe, took a gamble with its budgeting for the university in that respect, a gamble that might not pay off.

If projected tuition revenues are not realized because fewer nonresident students come back next year, NU's already perilous money situation will be put in even worse shape. More importantly, a decrease in the percentage of out-of-state students will have the adverse effect of turning the university into more and more of a parochial institution, falling victim to a sort of inbreeding. The risk taken to save a few tax dollars is not worth it.

Law-And-Order Warnings

WASHINGTON — Voices raised in warning about the future of an America plagued by the lawlessness of the right and the lawlessness of the far left go unheeded. The other day a sober, concerned citizen with a greater knowledge of the causes of crime and violence than all but a few professionals raised the specter of civil war fought with secret arsenals accumulating in hate and fear.

Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the late president, has no political axe to grind. He put in long, arduous service as chairman of the Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence. Testifying before a Senate subcommittee, he said the commission's report released in December, 1969, has had a greater circulation than any commission report ever.

Yet the administration has thus far done nothing to carry through on the commission's recommendations. Attorney General John N. Mitchell has held up for nearly a year approval of a citizens' committee to monitor and help improve law-enforcement.

Eisenhower was, in effect, posing a choice between a radical reform of the nationwide system of justice, all but broken down in many areas, and law and order imposed by force that disregards all the guarantees of the Constitution and the evolution of due process. The police sweeps in Washington, directed indiscriminately at the May Day demonstrators — virtually all now released for lack of evidence — were an example of the concentration-camp approach. The attorney general set the tone by calling on police forces elsewhere to do likewise.

It comes down, as Eisenhower's testimony made clear, to whether Americans are willing to pay the price of reform. Last year the FBI reported 5,000,000 serious crimes. Experts agree that only about half of the actual number are reported. Of the estimated 10,000,000, only 12 per cent result in arrest, six per cent in conviction or confession — often for a lesser offense than the original charge — and one-and-a-half per cent in incarceration.

To strengthen and revise a system so obviously failing will take, Eisenhower said, not less than $10 billion a year. In the 1972 budget, the administration is asking for $698 million for the Law-Enforcement Assistance Administration. Most of this has gone to beef up local police forces.

The second recommendation of the Eisenhower commission was the need to attack the social causes of crime. That means, as Eisenhower testified, not only restructuring the government of the cities but having proper programs in housing, education, and employment to the tune of $20 billion. It is a commentary that teen-age unemployment in April was 17.2 per cent and probably is much higher today. In the 100 largest poverty areas, the unemployment rate for the first quarter was nine per cent, as against 5.9 for the nation over-all.

Arsenals, literally arsenals, are being built up by the extreme left and the extreme right with every type of weapon, the largest component being the concealable hand gun. The importation and sale of these guns, which are only for killing, has greatly increased, according to Eisenhower. Because he advocated a federal gun registration law he has been vilified by adherents of the National Rifle Association, which he described ironically as the greatest educational institution in the firearms field.

The witnesses before Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure were testifying on whether national commissions produced any results or whether they were an escape valve for emotions of the moment to be filed and forgotten. Two other witnesses were Otto Kerner, former governor of Illinois and now a federal judge, chairman of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, and Nicholas De B. Katzenbach, chairman of the President's Commission on Law-Enforcement and Administration of Justice. The Kerner report, suggesting the threat of an apartheid society following on the riots in the wake of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was given the silent treatment by President Johnson.

Senator Kennedy suggested the need to tie such commission reports to a demand for response from both the executive branch and Congress. Then it would be more difficult for government to file and forget once the trauma of riot or assassination had passed.

Poster Wrong

Lincoln, Neb.

In the June 3 issue of The Star, Page 23, we see posters proclaiming "goodbye" in many languages.

I would like to say that the Swedish one on the left is correct, but not the one on the right side, which I presume is Russian.

A look in the dictionary will help here.

Stolen Planter

Lincoln, Neb.

HEY, THERE! — You, with the beautiful new cemetery planter on your patio —

I'm not referring to those who purchased theirs or came by it honestly — but YOU who stole it from the cemetery.

Did YOU take only the one on my parents' graves (east end of Section 35 near Wyuka's Vine Street entrance — a white 20-inch long fiberglass container filled with several colorful live plants) or did YOU also take others to make your porch prettier for YOU?

I'll bet YOU thought YOU really saved yourself ten dollars, which this particular planter was worth in monetary value — but it is irreplaceable to our family. You see, that planter was a treasured birthday gift to my mother from dear friends, and thus we have it filled each year with live plants for my parents' graves.

When YOU look at these flowers, do YOU wonder what kind of persons my parents were? Are YOU dedicating your life to something worthwile, such as caring for others less fortunate than they were? Or do YOU spend your time thinking how YOU can take something from others who can't defend their property such as my parents?

If your conscience bothers YOU enough after reading this, it would sincerely be appreciated if YOU would kindly place my parents' planter back on their graves. Keep the plants if you wish — they would have been replaced next Memorial Day, anyway. We visit their graves often and can save it again for years to come. And if YOU have others YOU acquired in the same way, it would be admirable to put them back also.

Government

Lincoln, Neb.

Our national government is broken up into state governments. The state governments are broken up into county governments, the county governments into county and city governments. No provision is made for the rural country areas.

If the country areas should incorporate, we would have the county broken up into city and country governments. Then we could have a social and economic county unit.

Our government grows by getting smaller. Likewise, the city government can also grow. It need not consolidate its functions with the county. It has problems now that it doesn't seem to be able to solve without a donation from the federal government.

Poor Consumer

Lincoln, Neb.

I think if Ralph Nader or anyone else who can do anything in behalf of the poor consumer these days accomplishes anything, he should be praised. The consumer takes the brunt of everything. From the producer on every commodity, on down, it's the consumer at the end of the line. There is no one else to pass a price increase on to.

It isn't just food products, although every housewife knows how bad this has become. It's repairs and services, too. If you have a color TV set, and it goes bad on you, you know what I mean. The cost of repairs is often so prohibitive that the owner is almost forced into buying a new set, and often his old set is only a year or two old. This is what they want. They could repair them if they wanted to, or even turn them out new in sturdier condition.

What is the poor consumer to do?

Renting Problems

Lincoln, Neb.

Talking about people's being unfair. First, you rent a house to them. They pay the first month's rent. You do all the running around for them, getting lights, gas and all other things in shape for them.

Then they move out in about a month or so. They leave the door unlocked, take the key and don't even bother to tell you they have moved. You find out when you come to collect the next month's rent.

They tear up the rugs, leave unpaid bills behind and garbage all over the place. They expect you to be kind to them when you see them in another house doing the same thing to the next fellow's place.

It makes you boil, but you go on being a good Joe because you want to be called a good landlord. Well, that stuff gets old. No wonder people have a hard time finding a place to rent. Who wants crumbs like this whom you have to clean up after all the time.

But I guess this is what makes the world go around. Just living isn't enough. Everything else goes with it.

Miss Tricia Nixon Marries Tomorrow

WASHINGTON—With the blasting of trumpets in place of Lohengrin, and with the tossing out of rose petals rather than rice, Miss Tricia Nixon becomes a bride tomorrow.

It promises to be a uniquely lovely wedding. But as those of us reporters who have squinted and simmered through other First Daughters' nuptials (such as Margaret's, Luci's, Lynda's and Julie's) are well aware, it will also present a challenge.

The challenge is to write vividly, perceptively and sensitively about a service which you really are not close enough to see.

Of course you "see" it in a curious manner of speaking. You observe the famous guests and the bridal couple as they file past the press locations en route to the ceremony, and you see them coming away again when it's over. Thus, if Martha Mitchell is smiling broadly as she enters the rose garden and is moist-eyed as she emerges, a reporter may assume either that the wedding was a moving experience—or that Martha has rose fever.

Tomorrow's wedding of Tricia to Edward Finch Cox promises to be an unusually pretty affair, and as we prepare to crane the neck and sprain the brain covering it, I can't help wondering how it all will compare with other nuptials I've attended in a quarter-century of weddings-watching.

Surely Tricia, with her Dresden-doll quality, will be the prettiest bride, it occurs.

Certainly Tricia's wedding will be the most prestigious in its guest list — aside from the other White House daughters' marriages. But then I recall the Shinto wedding in Tokyo of Prince Akihito and the commoner Michiko Shoda, which cost Emperor Hirohito $111,000 for the service, and where the bride wore a dozen (count 'em — 12) different layers of bridal finery. More than 130,000 people jammed into the Palace Plaza alone (small people, thank goodness), and the press viewing stand was atop a teetering wooden superstructure 16 feet above the mob and reachable by crane. That was a prestigious one.

Perhaps Tricia and Ed's will be the most beautiful wedding—in terms of its natural setting. But then, what could have been more naturally beautiful than the ceremony in Soegne, Norway, when Steven Rockefeller married the "Cinderella kitchen maid", Anne Marie Rasmussen? An ancient stone church, surrounded by crystal air and the bluest of skies, and a winding trip past the fjords to the intimate reception.

The wedding of Tricia Nixon and Edward Cox is the inspirational wedding in an era when the institution of marriage is being questioned by youth around the world: it is the latest wedding, the Now wedding.

And today's orange blossoms and rose petals are always more exciting than those pressed, however tenderly, in old books . . .

'You Can't Beat Somebody With Nobody' Demos Warned In Selection Of Candidate

WASHINGTON — Poll results mean different things to different readers, but to some political buffs, Dr. Gallup's latest findings will tend to confirm what John Mitchell said at a Republican dinner in Virginia: "You can't beat somebody with nobody and they sure don't have anybody to run against Nixon."

The poll depicted what appeared to be an extremely close presidential election in losing to Edmund Muskie, 41 to 39 per cent, and defeating Edward Kennedy, 42 to 41, and Hubert Humphrey, 42 to 39.

Presumably, Attorney General Mitchell expects the Democrats to put up a body next year; he meant he saw no one with the stature and personality and the grip on the public's imagination that would enable him to defeat an incumbent president.

It does not take much traveling and talking, these days, to get a similar impression. Everywhere Democrats and independents or any potential anti-Nixon groups gather, it becomes almost immediately evident that none of the present Democratic possibilities is really much of a front-runner. While that role is usually conceded to Muskie, the impression seems equally widespread that he is slipping badly and has not shown much leadership or personality.

The Gallup poll tends to confirm this picture of the situation because it confined to the three Democrats who are most widely known to the public; and because none of them can point to commanding lead over Nixon or among themselves. Statistically, the difference between 42 and 9 per cent — the range of the latest Gallup findings — is virtually nil, especially when in all cases there was an undecided vote of 7 or 8 per cent, and a steady 10 to 12 per cent cast for George Wallace of Alabama.

Interstingly enough, only when Edward Kennedy was matched against Nixon did Wallace's potential vote fall off; but it was impossible to tell whether Kennedy's name caused some Wallace voters to swing to him or to Nixon.

It is true that the latest Gallup findings reflect considerable gains for all three Democrats, and a sharp slippage for Nixon, in the last 15 months. But that can be read another way from the obvious. For despite his troubles with the economy, his adventures in Cambodia and Laos, and other controversial issues, Nixon still is running neck-and-neck with all of his most publicized adversaries. Nearly three years after he took office and responsibility, when his popularity would naturally be at a low ebb, he might reasonably have been expected to fare much worse in public opinion against a really dominant Democratic candidate.

Muskie is the most vulnerable of the three best-known Democrats because he has little option but to run the primary gauntlet, while Kennedy and Humphrey are the only possibilities who can plausibly refuse to enter any primaries. (But the ever-ready Humphrey, having unwisely stayed out of all of them in 1968, now unwisely talks of entering some in 1972.)

American politics are so unsettled and volatile at the moment, however, that with a year to go before the party conventions, the picture the Gallup poll now suggests may bear no resemblance to what will actually happen.

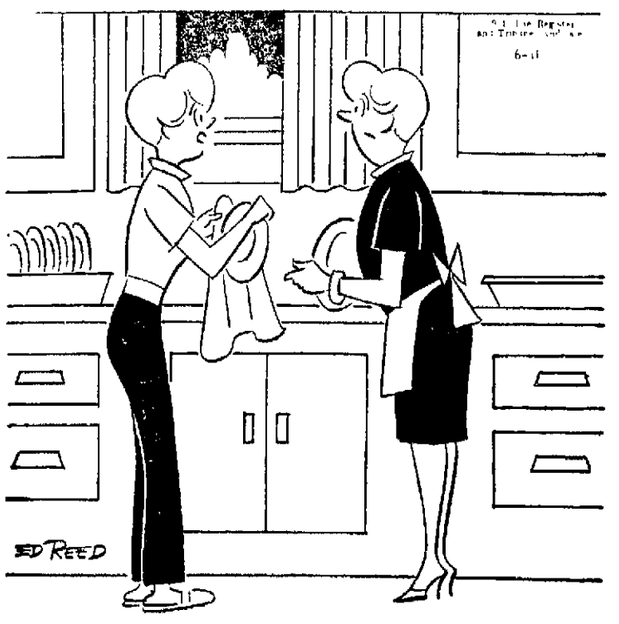

For one thing, if a Democrat — Muskie, for instance — should establish himself as a big winner in the primaries and be nominated by a more or less united convention, Nixon's position would be far more precarious than now appears likely.

For another, if Rep. Paul McCloskey's primary campaign shakes Republican confidence in the President, or forces his withdrawal, the real intra-party battle could come on that side of the fence, with Govs. Ronald Reagan and Nelson A. Rockefeller all but certain to leap into the ring.

Considering these possibilities, and with Eugene McCarthy making new-party noises in the bakground, the old cliche applies: It's far too early to tell what will happen. For the moment, however, John Mitchell's equally ancient cliche — "You can't beat somebody with nobody" — seems to describe the situation aptly. And the problem for the Democrats is to find themselves a "somebody" without killing him off in the process.

International Expansion Urged For Business

American business must diversify and seek international markets if it is to grow in the modern business climate Robert I Dee a top executive for one of the world's largest pharmaceutical companies said in Lincoln Thursday

Dee's firm, Smith, Kline and French, of which he is executive vice president, and its Lincoln subsidiary, Norden Laboratories, the number one veterinary medicine supplier in the world, were honored by business and government leaders at a luncheon hosted by the National Bank of Commerce.

Norden merged with SK&F in 1960 and since that time the parent company, an old-line Philadelphia pharmaceutical house has branched into three other areas medical services and instruments industrial instrumentation and consumer product, the last exemplified by the Contac cold remedy and the 'Love' line of cosmetics

Going International

Lewis Harris of Lincoln, SK&F director and group vice president with international responsibilities introduced the Harvard-educated Dee, who said that SK&F executives realizing in the last decade that there would be no growth without change decided to alter the image of the firm into a totally international multi-product enterprise

Dee said the company is working toward a goal of having one-third to one-half of its sales generated outside the United States by next year

American business must develop a strategy for change, Dee said, because the most rapidly expanding markets are to be found in developing economies in other parts of the world because regular, incremental growth requires diversification because of the "spread of consumerism" — the demand for better goods and services — and because of the growing regulation of business by government

'Over-Regulation'

"The drug industry has been subjected to ever-increasing regulation — I should say 'over-regulation,'" Dee said which has resulted in a diminished supply of needed drugs and medicines

It was regulation and "constant investigation" by the government which prompted SK&F to diversify and not put all our pills in one basket "

To effect its strategy of change, Dee said that SK&F shifted its operational structure so that each product area would be responsible for its own marketing, enlarged its scope to focus on world-wide possibilities for business investments and centralized responsibilities for medical research programs.

He noted however, that "we delegate as much responsibility as we can to line managers around the world we are a states' rights company and not a federal bureaucracy"

As an example, the Norden subsidiary in Lincoln has developed eight new products in the last four years which have accounted for 28% of its annual sales

House Approves Plan To Extend Trade Bank's Life

Washington (AP) — The House Banking Committee approved Thursday legislation to extend the life of the Export-Import Bank and step up its efforts to finance U S exports

Similar to a bill passed by the Senate, the measure would increase the loan-guarantee authority of the government bank form $3 5 billion to $10 billion and the lending ceiling from $13 5 billion to $20 billion.

It would also provide that the program of voluntary restraints on credits administered by the Federal Reserve would not apply to loans in support of exports

Like the Senate bill, the measure would authorize loans and guarantees for exports to Communist countries with which the United States is not at war, subject to restraint by the president

Girls Staters Okay Abortion Bill

A legislative bill that would legalize abortion in Nebraska until the 12th week of pregnancy "if the bearing of the child would jeopardize physical, mental or social health of the mother" was approved after final reading by members of Cornhusker Girls State Thursday

The bill, passed after about 45 minutes of discussion, stipulates that all women undergoing abortion in Nebraska must be residents of the state, and that they agree to undergo counseling prior to and following the operation.

The bill was introduced by Marilyn Lemon of Beatrice

Another bill dealing with reforms in Nebraska's penal complexes was also approved after final reading

That bill directs that commission be created to determine and issue reforms to be made in penal complexes, and that these reforms be financed by $2 increases in all court costs

The only other bill passed by the Girls State body Thursday directed that a commission be created for investigation of the state's mental institutions.

Other action included the approval of two resolutions, one dealing with improvement of state highways and the other with insuring equal rights for women.

Thursday night, Girls State representatives will meet with delegates to Boys State at a dance at the Nebraska Center. Music will be provided by "The Market"

Friday, the final day of the six-day session the ten top scorers on the Girls State government examination will be recognized.

Domestic, Foreign Sugar Bill OKd

Washington (UPI) -- The House voted Thursday to continue for three more years quotas and subsidies for U S sugar growers and guaranteed premium prices for select foreign suppliers

Its sponsors said the expiring sugar act had served to assure a steady supply of sugar at a reasonable price. Its critics called the sugar controls a fraud on consumers and said U.S. housewives pay millions extra for the benefit of growers here and abroad.

In the only real attack on the bill critics of South Africa's apartheid racial policy sought to eliminate that country's 60 000-ton allotment that would be continued unchanged by the measure as drafted by the Agriculture Committee

But the bill came to the floor protected by a "no amendment" rule and the anti-South African block struck out 166 to 213 in a move to modify that rule only as to this single allotment

The bill was passed on a roll call, 229 to 128, and sent to the Senate, where it will be considered under ground rules that make amendments in order. Hearings are expected shortly in the Senate Finance Committee.

Under the House-passed version domestic cane and beet growers will supply 62% of the estimated 11 2 million ton U S sugar need in 1972, while foreign producers would share in supplying the rest

The allotments both domestic and foreign are like money in the bank to producers Importers are assured a market at a price about $60 per ton above the world level

Homefront growers benefit not only from this stablized price but also by government subsidies totalling about $90 million a year.

Domestically the Louisiana-Florida cane growing area got a 300 000-ton increase in its annual share of the market, bigger quotas also went to 11 foreign countries and new quotas to three not previously included. Other nations got offsetting cuts.

STP Worthless Oil Thickener, Magazine Says

©The New York Times

New York — STP, the oil treatment for cars advertised as "the racer's edge" is actually a worthless oil thickener that may violate a new car's warranty the magazine Consumer Reports charged Thursday

In an article to appear in its July issue, the magazine says STP is a "thick goo" that increases the viscosity of the oil in a new car by two grades "If that's what you want, it's simpler to fill up with heavier oil in the first place," the magazine adds

The magazine notes that most auto manufacturers, in their service manuals for new cars, discourage the use of all additives Officials of the magazine quoted both General Motors and Ford as saying that if a service center found that the use of an additive had contributed to a car's malfunctioning the warranty might not be honored

In a statement Thursday, Andy Granatelli, the racing car manufacturer who is president of STP Corp, said "With millions and millions of satisfied customers our product speaks for itself"

A spokesman for Granatelli declined to comment on the individual points made by Consumer Reports

Arguments From Mid-Plains Group Heard

The Nebraska Court of Industrial Relations Thursday heard oral arguments in a request from the Mid-Plains Education Association involving the association's suit against the Mid-Plains Vocational-Technical College at North Platte

The association has asked the court to order recognition by the school for the association as the agent for instructors at the school for collective bargaining purposes.

In the current matter heard Thursday, the association contends that five instructors at the school have been terminated by the college All are association members

The association is asking the court to "protect" association members at the school

A decision on the recognition question has not yet been handed down by the court although it has heard oral arguments in the case.

The five instructors are listed by the association as Richard Hawley, Iona Hawley, Arnold Beyersdorf, Charles Suiter and Jean Ditriksen

In its suit, the association contends that college action in terminating the employes is "in direct violation of the laws of the State of Nebraska" and asks that the court protect association members "to the end that their employment status . . not be altered or in any way changed while this action is pending"

Want a thick green lawn without dandelions?

Then feed it as you weed it!

All you do is spread Scotts PLUS-2 on your lawn. It gets rid of dandelions, easily and surely. Makes them curl up and disappear, root and all. And not just dandelions. PLUS-2 also clears out plantain, buckhorn, chickweed, clover and many other common lawn weeds.

Fertilizes too. When the weeds are gone you'll notice that the lawn is greener and thicker than before. That's because every bag of PLUS-2 also contains a full feeding of Turf Builder, which helps your grass fill in where the weeds used to be.

When to use. You can spread PLUS-2 anytime after dandelions come in bloom You won't see any sudden results But one day you'll realize the weeds have simply vanished And your lawn is thicker and greener It's as easy as that.

Yellow grass?
– even though you fertilize?

It's likely caused by iron deficiency Our alkaline soils are frequently responsible for the yellows even when the grass is fed regularly And the color won't improve no matter how much you fertilize until the iron deficiency is corrected

That's where Scotts new IRON S comes in It supplies the plant available iron that is necessary for good green color Iron S is not a substitute for fertilizer It is an iron supplement that when used with fertilizer helps yellowing grass turn green again See for yourself — this weekend

Camaro
Chevelle

Chevrolet's Summer Sale
on all Chevelles and Camaros.

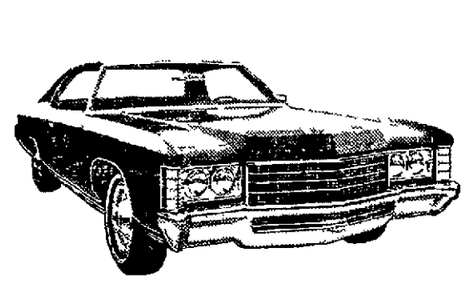

Chevrolet's Summer Sale ends the end of June It's a sale on every model of our mid-size Chevelle and sports-size Camaro

It's a simple sale to help you save money

Simply order your Chevelle or Camaro with four features we think you'd want anyhow.

They are white stripe tires, the deluxe seat belts, a set of wheel covers and an AM/FM radio or any stereo equipment (Stereo available only on Chevelle)

By buying the package, you start summer by getting a great deal on America's most popular mid-size car or the one the readers of Car and Driver magazine picked as 1971's Best Sporty Car—the Camaro Which, you've got to admit, isn't a half bad start.

Impala. The big family car a family man can afford.

Impala delivers you and your family more standard equipment than any other car at its price.

Turbo Hydra-matic transmission with any V8 and power steering are now standard. And that's not all.

It has built-in power front disc brakes, a built-in power ventilation system, a built-in double-panel roof that's stronger and does a better job of absorbing sound.

It has built-in side-guard door beams, built-in steel cargo guard in the trunk and more built-in room than any other car in its field (so says Automotive Industries magazine).

Not only is Impala traditionally America's No. 1 seller, it's traditionally high in holding its resale value

See the U.S A. in comfort, and at reasonable prices.

Nova. Mechanics say it has the "least mechanical problems".

Or how about a Nova? You know, a lot of people talk about how trouble-free and economical their cars are But Motor Service and Service Station Management magazines asked garage owners and mechanics what they thought—which ones really have the least mechanical problems and are easiest to maintain.

Nova came out on top, right at the very top.

Nova is small enough to fit neatly into garages and tight parking spaces Big enough to seat five in the coupe, six in the sedan.

It's economical in city driving; yet hefty enough, with standard Six or V8 engine, to give you a solid ride on any highway.

We're bringing back that good old summertime air, too.

Happily, things are looking up in the battle against air pollution Because, fortunately, a lot has been done by Chevrolet in the past 10 years to check pollution caused by our cars

In the early 1960's we began installing emission controls on our engines And now every 1971 Chevrolet is equipped to reduce hydrocarbon output by 80% and carbon monoxide emissions by about two-thirds

You can help, too Keep your car tuned and those pollution controls checked regularly.

Let that sun shine in.

Remember, buckling your seat and shoulder belts is an idea you can live with.

Now, have a great summer. Chevrolet

POSTCARD by Stan Kleinsasser

"I may raise a beard." I shouted down the hall. Seriously. Daily shaving is a chore. (The children ran out to the neighbors and said. "Our father is raising a beard!")

I said: "Everybody else is wearing a beard. Why can't I?"

The beard started in San Francisco as a poetic protest. The beatnik generation. It was taken over by the hip hippies. Gradually the beard grew upon the Brooks Brothers set.

If you haven't shaved for a month, the headwriter probably will seat you at a ringside table. It makes the room feel dressy.

☆

My grandfather wore a sweeping cavalry moustache. (In those sweeping days, they drank from a moustache cup. It had a china bar across the top to keep your fringe from dipping into the coffee.)

Otherwise he was clean shaven. He had a set of straight razors with bone handles. One for each day of the week.

The other people who still wore beards were the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic. They were entitled to wear anything they liked, having fought and bled for the Union.

When they rode in Memorial Day parades, they all looked like U.S. Grant.

☆

The children said: "How soon will it grow?" I said: "Maybe I'll have a full beard by tomorrow." (I may go out and rent a beard. I'm that impatient.)

Used to be a man with a beard was a bum. A Weary Willie.

We were all shaved. Trimmed. Crew cut.

There was an interval in downy youth when we all tried to raise a pencil-line moustache. We rubbed olive oil on our lips. It was supposed to encourage the growth.

I think it was Ramon Navarro of the silent movies who wore such a moustache. A debonair fellow. He was The Fastest Rapier in France.

He could out-slash a six-pack of the Cardinal's Guards.

"Voila!" He stabbed one who fell grandly from the staircase. "Touche!" He whirled and skewered the sneak behind him. Cut! Slash-Ouch!

We used the olive oil daily. The growth was disappointing. Our mothers said: "Did you wash your face? You've got something on your lip." (Ye gods! How insulting.)

Those boys who did get moustaches did not get the needle points of the movie Musketeer. They just got a droopy look.

We had one boy in school who had five o'clock shadow and no doubt could have raised a whipping beard and moustache. He was about 20. He had been in high school for seven years.

He simply couldn't learn enough to get out.

He was our star football player. We had no eligibility rules. If you could stand up, get out there and play. He had played for seven years and was getting better all the time.

☆

Well, that passed. We all shaved — about once a week. We took off the downy moustache. We decided to be like William S. Hart, the silent cowboy. (Subtitle: "Mosey, Stranger. We don't cotton to strangers, Stranger.")

William S. Hart's face and lip were bare as a racetrack.

We took up something else. Stacomb, I think it was. It held your hair down like plaster.

☆

Never too late. I said: "I haven't decided whether to have a bushy beard or a pointy beard." (I get tired of looking at the same face in the mirror.)

The children went out and invited everybody to come over in the morning.

"Come before school. Our father is going to have a beard."

The Silver Fox of Shady Acres.

U.S. Combat Deaths Dip To Lowest Point Since Start Of Buildup

Saigon (AP) — U.S. battlefield deaths last week dipped to the lowest point since the start of the big American troop buildup in Vietnam in late 1965.

The U.S. Command announced Thursday 19 Americans were killed in action, reflecting both the current ebb in fighting and the diminishing combat role of U.S. ground forces.

The fatalities were matched by 19 American noncombat deaths from sickness and accidents.

It was the lowest battle toll since the third week of October 1965, a time when the United States was just starting to build its forces toward the 1969 peak of more than half a million men.

In that October week, 14 combat deaths were reported from among 148,300 American troops then in Vietnam. By comparison, the 19 deaths last week came from 250,900 U.S. troops still in South Vietnam.

562 In One Week

The highest one-week toll of Americans killed occurred during the heavy fighting that followed the Communist Tet offensive of 1968, when 562 Americans were killed in the week of May 4-11.

So far this year, 1,009 Americans have been killed in action for an average weekly toll of 45. In the comparable period last year, the U.S. death total was 2,500 or an average of 114 a week.

The low casualty count coincided with word that U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker will leave Saigon Sunday for talks in Washington, possibly dealing with a speedup in American troop withdrawal. Also on the agenda will be South Vietnam's presidential election next October.

261 Wounded

The U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary showed 261 Americans were wounded in action last week, an increase of 32 over the previous week.

The latest figures raised to 45,250 the total of Americans killed in the war and the number of wounded to 299,924. An additional 9,583 died in Vietnam from noncombat causes.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 419 government troops were killed last week and 908 were wounded, a decrease from the casualties of a week earlier when 452 were killed and 1,171 were wounded. South Vietnamese casualties for the war rose to 128,438 killed and 278,698 wounded.

The two allied commands reported 1,875 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed last week, three less than the previous week. This brought the total of enemy troops claimed killed by the allies during the war to 750,088.

Peterson Says Ag Policy 'Must Rest Upon Commitment To Family Farming'

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Future agricultural policy "must rest upon a national commitment to family farming as the basis for production," the chairman of the University of Nebraska's Department of Economics said.

Current farm policy does not appear likely to solve agriculture's economic and social problems, Wallace Peterson of Lincoln suggested.

Current policy, designed to "move more and more toward dependence upon the market with less support from government," seeks to increase American exports while maintaining a system of flexible price supports, he said.

But "the odds are against it" working, he said.

Nixon Has Failed

The Nixon administration has also failed to deal seriously with the problem of stemming or reversing the rural to urban migration, Peterson said.

A national commitment to family farming is required if "strong and imaginative efforts (are to) be made to establish a new foundation and new directions for agricultural policy," he declared.

"A national commentment provides the incentive to find the means to achieve a given social or economic objective."

'Best Instrument'

The federal government, he said, "remains the best instrument through which price and income support for agriculture can be obtained, whether by the parity formula or some yet-to-be-discovered new approach."

And the federal government "must be the primary agent for development of a national location policy designed to bring about a better geographic distribution of our population," thus stemming the rural exodus, Peterson said.

Careful decisions should be made about the location of new federal installations, judicious credit arrangements, carefully conceived tax incentives and subsidies to local communities, he suggested.

'Most Critical'

"Our most critical need for social innovation is in the realm of finance," he said.

"A new concept which offers an exciting promise is that of a Rural Development Bank, organized on a regional basis much like the Federal Reserve System, and funded in part by the federal government and in part by private subscription."

American agriculture is not faring well today, Peterson noted.

Lagging Behind

The medium income per family in the non-farm sector of the economy in 1969 was $8,499, but it was $5,936 per farm family.

Parity has declined from a post-World War II high of 115 in 1947 to 72 last year.

The price spread between the price paid to farmers as reflected in the wholesale price index and consumer prices continues to grow.

About 30%

And federal outlays to stabilize prices and farm incomes have averaged about 3% of total federal expenditures, a figure which compares to approximately 45% of federal outlays going for military purposes.

The picture is "a worsening economic position for the American farmer," Peterson said.

Gov. Exon To Seek Endorsement Of Ag Plan By Demo Governors

By The Associated Press

Gov. J. J. Exon revealed Thursday he will seek the formal endorsement June 19 of other Democratic governors for his concept of a federal board "to make policy in the agricultural field."

Exon will meet June 19 in Omaha with other governors at the Democratic Governors Caucus, a session scheduled to be attended also by Democratic National Chairman Lawrence O'Brien.

Exon has already unveiled his agricultural board plan to the governors at a conference several months ago in St. Louis but said Thursday he would seek some kind of endorsement for his plan at the Omaha meeting.

He explained he will also seek the approval of other governors at the Midwestern Governors Conference scheduled next month in Sioux City.

As outlined by Exon, the board would "be a broad policy-making body in the field of agriculture that would help remove agriculture from the field of politics."

Exon says the board "could act to stabilize agriculture much as the Federal Reserve Board does in the money field" and has suggested that it be called the federal "food and fiber" board.

He first proposed the idea last fall in his successful campaign against Norbert Tiemann for the state's gubernatorial chair.

"If we can take politics out of the field of agriculture," said Exon, "it will be a step in the right direction."

The board would be appointed by the president, according to Exon, and would serve as a policy-making body while the Federal Department of Agriculture serves as the administrative arm for carrying out board decisions.

On a related topic, Exon said he is "Very much against" president Nixon's proposal to eliminate the Department of Agriculture as a separate entity by consolidating the department with other cabinet-level departments.

"It is a move to downgrade agriculture at a time when we feel it should be upgraded," Exon said.

The proposed board would have control over market pricing and pricing structures, production and production controls, and farms, consumer, and foreign trade interests.

"This is basically a long-range program," Exon says. "It would act to stabilize agriculture through the removal of the farm and farm problems from the political arena."

"Agriculture continues to produce a greater share of the gross national product but less and less a share of the wealth of this country," Exon said.

He explained that his state agriculture director, Glenn Kreuscher, has been discussing the program with other state agriculture directors in an attempt to line up support for the idea.

"We think that as other governors from these other states realize what a tremendous role agriculture plays in our economy," Exon said, "that they will back us all the way."

Former Coed, Bride

The marriage of Miss Debra Ann Zabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Zabel of Edgar, to Phillip W. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Johnson of Davenport, was solemnized on Thursday evening, June 10, at the United Methodist Church in Ong. The Rev. Robert Ditterline read the lines of the service.

Pink and white floor-length frocks of voile were worn by the attendants, including Miss Christine Zabel of Edgar, who was her sister's maid of honor; bridesmatron, Mrs. Robert Krafka; and Miss Vicki Meyer and Miss Linda Fisher, the bridesmaids. They carried white baskets of pink and white daisies and gypsophelia.

Dennis Grone of Davenport served as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers were Murray Johnson, Robert Krafka, Chris Frye, Doug Shultz and Bruce Harms.

A gown of organza and Venise lace in the Empire mode was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The lace fashioned the mandarin neckline, the bodice, and formed an overlay on the full-length Camelot sleeves. The skirt, an A-line silhouette, was completed by a lace-accented train which extended from waist height to chapel length. A cluster of lace petals held in place her train-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, pink sweetheart roses, white daisies and gypsophelia.

Mr. Johnson and his bride will reside on a farm near Davneport. The bride attended the University of Nebraska.

Wedding Plans

Naming the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss M. Jane Ferris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ferris, whose marriage to Alexander Fischer, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fischer, Jr., will be an event of Saturday, June 26.

Miss Julie Ferris will attend her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Jill Ferris and Miss Sally Cook. The bridesmatron will be Mrs. John Shipp.

Glenn Hergenrader will serve Mr. Fischer as best man, and the groomsmen will include Lloyd Roberts, John Shipp and Gary Petersen.

Evening Ceremony

On Thursday evening, June 10, the marriage of Miss Deborah Ann Powless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Powless, to Bruce Earl Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Nelson of Malcolm, took place at St. Andrews Lutheran Church.

The two attendants, including Miss Patricia M. Powless, who was her sister's maid of honor; and bridesmaid Miss Michele Manning, wore alike, floor-length frocks of yellow voile and carried nosegays of yellow daisies.

Byron S. Nelson of Malcolm served his brother as best man, and Douglas M. Grant was the groomsman.

The bride chose a gown of silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace for her wedding. The lace fashioned the high, ruffled Victorian collar and the Bishop sleeves, and was repeated on the yoke of the Empire bodice. The skirt was an A-line silhouette, and the lace-accented watteau train was caught at Empire height and extended to cotillion length. A cluster of lace petals held in place her shoulder-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and white daisies.

Mr. Nelson and his bride will reside at 1530 So. 21st St., Apt. 4, in Lincoln, where he attends the University of Nebraska.

PWP Council Meeting

Representatives of Lincoln's Parents Without Partners will attend the Cornhusker Regional Council meetings which will be held in Hastings this weekend.

The Saturday, June 12, and Sunday, June 13, event is being hosted by the members of the Hastings Chapter of PWP.

The meetings will be held at the Hastings Elks Club, and will include workshops, a dance, speakers, discussions, and get-togethers.

Our Town

INDIRA SINGH — PHYLLIS WOOLLEN

Footlights & Canvas

Good morning,

Summer is an excellent season to invest some time in the cultural development of your children. The opportunities are abundant, and while during the school year children may be overloaded with school work, summer days can be filled with experimental tastings of the various performing arts, as well as recreation. Dance, music or drama lessons offer valuable summertime experiences.

There are also opportunities for the child who has been studying one of the performing arts to show his skill publicly. The Show Wagon which is operated by the City Parks and Recreation Department, combines a bit of the heyday of vaudeville with the fun of the outdoors.

The Show Wagon visits all 12 parks and playgrounds between June 21 and July 27. On each Monday and Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock during this period, audition shows called Vaudeville Vagabonds, will be held. The shows offer a wonderful event for children to perform, as well as for neighbors to enjoy an evening together. (For more detailed information see page 14).

Please join us.

ALL PACKED UP . . . and ready to go. The fifteen member troupe of Nebraska Wesleyan's summer repertory program at Brownville, spent the past week scavenging for props, sewing costumes and loading up a truck heading for an eventful summer.

At Brownville the troupe, under the direction of Henry Blanke, is working an 18 hour-day learning roles, painting scenery and getting the Village Theatre ready for the first public show, which will be held Saturday, July 3. The season opens with Neil Simon's popular comedy, "Plaza Suite." An invitational performance of "The Matchmaker" will be held on June 26 and June 27. Altogether the group will perform 5 plays, with 40 performances. The season will continue until Aug. 22. All seats are reserved and tickets are available by calling the box office at 825-4121 in Brownville, or by writing the Village Theatre, Brownville, Neb., 683121.

THE LITTLE PERFORMERS . . . at the Children's Zoo Birdcage Theatre are not to be missed if you happen to be on hand at 1 o'clock or 2 o'clock on Friday, Saturday, Sunday or Wednesday. The lineup this week includes performance presented today by Miss Amy Campbell and Miss Terri Krivosha who will be doing dance and pantomine in a skit entitled, "The Doll Shop." On the same program, Miss Marilyn-Rae Price, a contestant for the Our Little Miss Pageant, will twirl her baton. On Saturday, The Hitchcock Brothers, Tim and Kevin, will play their guitars. Ventriloquist Doug Desch will headline the show on Sunday, and another ventriloquist, Dana Pratt will share the spotlight on Wednesday with puppeteers Jack Gourlay and Neil Nelson.

Square Dance Plans

Round and square dance enthusiasts will have plenty of opportunity to partake of their favorite dances this weekend.

For example, on Saturday evening, June 12, the Cross-Trailers group will sponsor a summer dance. The do-se-doing and swinging of partners will begin at 9 o'clock and it will be lights out at 11:30 o'clock. The public-is-welcome dance will be held in the pavilion at Antelope Park.

The same evening — Saturday, June 12 — the Hi-Flyers will don their ginghams to do more of the same at an 8 o'clock dance which will be held at the IOOF Bldg., 1111 No. 56th St.

MISS JANE THEOBALD

Of much more than casual interest to campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Theobald of Red Cloud, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Tom McClelland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. McClelland of Turtle Creek, Pa.

An August wedding is planned.

Miss Theobald is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in speech pathology.

Mr. McClelland, well known for his prowess as a defensive back on the Cornhusker football team, also is a senior at the University and is majoring in physical education.

Show Wagon's Wheels To Roll

This year the Lincoln Parks and Recreation Department Show Wagon will begin its tour of 12 parks and playgrounds on June 21 and will continue through July 27. Audition Shows will be held every Monday and Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the places listed below.

Children from 5 years of age and older are eligible to enter their talent. On Wednesday evenings, the best talent will compete for first place and runner-up trophies at Antelope Park. A special runner-up competition show will be held Aug. 2 at Antelope Park for all the second place winners. The winner of the contest will then compete with all of the first place winners in the Talent Showcase Finals on Saturday, Aug. 7 at Pinewood Bowl.

The Show Wagon has been equipped with new sound and electrical systems this year, so the shows should be better than ever. Those interested in participating can obtain information and applications by writing or calling Dana Mills at the Lincoln Recreation Center, 2740 A Street, or phone: 423-2391.

Listed below is the Show Wagon Schedule:

TALENT COMPETITION

Monday, June 21 — Prescott School, 20th and Harwood.
Tuesday, June 22 — Randolph School 1024 South 37th.
Monday, June 28 — Brownell School, 60th and Aylesworth.
Tuesday, June 29 — Pershing School, 6402 Judson St.
Monday, July 5 — Pyrtle School, 720 S. Cottonwood.
Tuesday, July 6 —Calvert School, 46th and Bancroft.
Monday, July 12 — Hawthorn School, 300 S. 48th St.
Tuesday, July 13 — Meadow Lane School, 7200 Vine St.
Monday, July 19 — Sheridan School, 3180 Plymouth St.
Tuesday, July 20 —Beattie School, 19th and Calvert St.
Monday, July 26 — Pentzer Park, 27th and Potter St.
Tuesday, July 27—Woods Park, 33rd and J St.

COMPETITION SHOWS

Winners or try-out shows compete every Wednesday night from June 23 to July 28, from 7 to 8 o'clock at Antelope Park.

RUNNER-UP RUN-OFF

On Monday, August 2, all runner-up winners will compete with each other at Antelope Park.

TALENT SHOWCASE FINALS

The final competition will be held on Saturday, August 7, at Pinewood Bowl.

MISS KATHY EKART

MISS MARILYN HERMANN

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Ekart of Imperial make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathy, to E. Max Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Schmitz of Maywood.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Aug. 14.

Miss Ekart has completed her freshman year at the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in physical education.

Mr. Schmitz was graduated this month from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture with a degree in agricultural economics. He is a member of Omicron Delta Epsilon and Alpha Zeta.

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hermann of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Ann, to Alvin Willis Stenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Stenzel of Menroe.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Aug. 21.

Miss Hermann is careering in Lincoln.

Mr. Stenzel is a junior at the University of Nebraska where he is majoring in social science.

MISS PRISCILLA LEE

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Lee of Crete make announcement this morning of the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla Jane, to John J. Turner, son of Mr and Mrs. Harry L. Turner of Fredonia, Kan.

No wedding date is named.

Miss Lee is a student at the University of Chicago.

Mr. Turner was graduated this year from the University of Chicago and will attend the Divinity School at Vanderbilt University.

Mary Danley Names Attendants

Announcing plans this morning for a June wedding is Miss Mary Frances Danley, whose marriage to John Charles Bills will be an event of Wednesday, June 16.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob E. Danley, the bride-to-be has named her sister, Miss Kerry Danley, as her maid of honor for the 7:30 o'clock candlelight service which will be solemnized at St. Paul Methodist Church. Attending Miss Danley as bridesmaid will be Miss Judy Moses, and Miss Diane Shurtleff of Denver, Colo., will be the flower girl.

Lighting the chancel candles will be Miss Sharon Shurtleff of Denver, Colo., and Scott Stanard .

Serving Mr. Bills as best man will be Ron Greeno, and the groomsman will be John Logan. Seating the guests will be Robert Danley and Bill Danley, brothers of the future bride, and Larry Gochnour. Miss Danley's brother, John Danley, will serve as ring bearer.

The popular soon-to-be bride was presented a one-gift shower on Monday evening, June 7, when Miss Barb Wise entertained a group of guests at her home. The gift was an electric blender.

Miss Marcia Shroeder was hostesses in courtesy to the bride-to-be on Tuesday afternoon, May 25, at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Danley. Assisting hostesses for the party were Miss Judy Alles and Miss Beth Hurlbutt.

A bridal shower also was presented to the bride-elect on Thursday evening, May 20, when Miss Judy Moses was hostess at a kitchen shower held at her home.

a tour of the shops

When we took our shopping tour this week, our thoughts roamed to the big outdoors and we dreamed about a vacation of really roughing it — far away from the city and the roar of the crowds. So naturally, the aura of camping came to mind and we set out to investigate camping gear.

AT SEARS

We soon discovered that as romantic as it may be to think about camping "just like they did in the pioneer days," it is another thing to head for the wilderness and surivive in these days without clinging to some basic necessities — give or take a few!

To begin with, it is nice to have a roaring campfire, but it is another thing to cover it — with the exception of hot dogs and marshmallows, so we suggest a camp cook stove. The two-burner camp stoves range in prices from a gas model at an extremely low price to a bright orange propane gas version slightly higher.

When the sun goes down, oftentimes through imagination and a dying fire, the camper tends to envision tall shadows in the surrounding trees and mountains. To fend off the ghouls, Sears offers gas and propane lanterns on bright blue or red that will fit into anyone's budget.

Besides the "let there be light" dilemma, campers must often brave the chill if they don't have a camp heater like the gas model at Sears.

For larger cool-off needs there is the ice chest. One style which comes in the 40-or 48-quart size is in aluminum with a foam insulated interior and wood grain top that doubles as a seat. Inside, there are two removable freezer jugs that act as the cooling unit and don't make a mess in the chest when the ice melts like the old time chests used to do. Another style of ice chest is available in a 48- or 73-quart size — both in blue polyethylene.

The deluxe camper who is looking for bigger and better things might be interested in the campers' refrigerator which has a 75-quart capacity The blue metal "big ice chest" has a wood grain door that opens to show regular refrigerator panels inside the door. There is ample room in this cooler and, of course, it too has a removable jug with a spout.

Those of you who are used to just like home handiness would love the new port-a-sink of durable plastic that holds four gallons and draws water out with a pump-like device.

AT CENGAS

When you and the family have returned from the out-of-doors vacation, what better way to keep in the spirit of things than with a gas grill.

The ecologists as well as the cook-out enthusiasts will love the gas grills that we found at Cengas. for there is little or no smoke to pollute the air, no messy charcoal to dispose of, and no detergent clean-up.

Cengas offers three models of gas grills — two single grills of different sizes and a double one. All three have rotisseries available and either redwood or aluminum shelves. The models are made of cast aluminum and come with either cast iron or cast aluminum grills.

The best features of the grills are they are faster — there is no waiting for the coals to heat up since they have permanent briquets to give you the true charcoal flavor — there is no mess — you simply brush the grill — no danger from the lighting fluids, and there is no guessing for you have positive control of the heat. For example, a three-pound fryer will be ready to eat in just 90 minutes!

AT LAWLOR'S

There is no need to be loading the car with odds and ends of your favorite kitchen cookware. Save that for the kitchen. Instead, we suggest that you make a minor investment in a four or six party Cook Set. The sets include plastic plates and cups, a 2 quart pot, a 9 inch frying pan. a coffee pot and lid, a 6 quart pail, salt and pepper set and a nylon spatula. The sets are available with teflon cookware or aluminum. A four party set in teflon and the aluminum six party set are inexpensive and merit a look.

Coffee and juice are morning favorites to wake up the sleepy camper. If the camping trip is just overnight, you might want to consider bringing these beverages in the double headed jug. This Thermos product provides two separate openings and containers in one jog. Hot coffee can go in one side, and cold juice in the other.

One of the favorite kinds of grills for outdoors is the Japanese hibachi. These small grills are especially ideal for cocktail shishkabobs. Of course, they can also be used for any other type of food that is grilled on a barbecue pit. Lawlor's carries both the single and double hibachi and a new electric hibachi.

Some of the tools of the trade for the chef are inexpensive but add real luxury. A barbeque grill tray hooks over the edge of a round grill, and provides a formica tray, hooks on the sides for cooking tools, and a towel rack. An outdoor chef unit contains the four most necessary tools, including long handled fork, brush, tongs and spatula — they are inexpensive, too. These tools may also be bought individually. and will save many a burned finger.

Bridge: bidding quiz time

BIDDING QUIZ

Some sequences of bidding are regarded as impossible — that is, you simply can't have a hand that fits the bids you've made. In each of the following five cases, specify whether South's last bid is Possible or Impossible.

1.

South	West	North	East
2 NT	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
6 ♠

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 NT	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
Pass

3.

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	4 NT	Pass
Pass

4.

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
Pass

5.

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	Pass

1. Impossible. Two notrump shows 22 to 24 points, notrump distribution and all-around strength. Having spoken his piece once, South cannot logically raise three spades to six when North may have only 2 or 3 points for his bid. It is surely wrong to punish partner for trying to get to a game. If there is a slam in the hand, the impetus must come from North.

2. Possible. In general, if responder names a new suit, that bid is forcing. But an outstanding exception to this rule is the case where the opener limits his hand by a rebid of one notrump over the first response. Two clubs may therefore be passed. North would have to jump to three clubs to force South to bid again.

3. Possible. Four notrump in this sequence is not Blackwood and South is permitted to pass with 16 points. North probably has 15 or 16 points and is merely suggesting the possibility of a slam.

4. Impossible. The two diamond jump response was a slam try and showed at least 17 points; hence, the hand cannot sensibly be played at less than game. North is probably still angling for a slam and seeking more information.

5. Impossible. Two notrump showed 13 to 15 points and committed the partnership to game. South cannot in effect blow hot and cold by making a bid forcing to game and then change his mind a moment later. Such a course of action is inconsistent with reality.

Abby: wise and beautiful thinking

DEAR ABBY: This is not a letter seeking advice, it is a statement of horror at the vulnerability of the female species. After reading a best seller which instructs women on how to be "sensuous," I have concluded that I am certainly not sensuous, nor do I want to be!

If a man has to take a woman for a "trial run" as if she were an automobile, I'll probably be called back to the factory due to a leaky fuel pump. And according to the author's more descriptive passages, I'd say she is well on her way to her 50th six-thousand-mile check-up. I hope her muffler falls off!

It gives me a pain in the pocketbook to realize that I spent $1.25 for that book. Sign me.

SENSIBLE, NOT SENSUOUS

DEAR SENSIBLE: You're beautiful!

DEAR ABBY When my husband and I were married, we agreed that we would have no children. We were both in our early twenties at the time. He came from a poor family and struggled thru college and medical school on scholarships. I came from a broken home and wanted to be certain our marriage would work before bringing children into the world.

My husband is now a physician and I am teaching, and we could easily support a family, but my husband doesn't want children. He feels that they would tie us down.

He is a devoted husband and I'm sure he'd make a fine father. We are good friends as well as lovers and enjoy traveling and a sense of freedom only childless couples know.

When I mention children, he says he is happy without them. I have considered getting pregnant and then facing the issue. Should I honor his wishes and my promise, or become pregnant and hope that he will be as happy as I, once the baby comes? I am 31 and time is running out.

SOMETHING MISSING

DEAR SOMETHING: Don't trick him into fatherhood. He may never forgive you — or the child. If you can't persuade him that children would enrich your lives, better to content yourself with "something missing" than to betray him with something added."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LUCKY IN OMAHA: Thanks for letting me know that all is well. Sometimes a good scare can do more for a girl than 10 lectures.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Young Lincoln Man Accidentally Shoots Own Foot

A young Lincoln man shot himself in the foot early Wednesday morning, police said, when he and a friend heard noises in a garage at 2627 N and went to investigate with a 16-guage shotgun.

Police said Allan L. Havlicek, 19, of 2627 N, was carrying the loaded shotgun when he stumbled and the gun went off, blowing off a portion of his left big toe and second toe.

Havlicek was taken to Lincoln General where he was listed in "good" condition Thursday afternoon.

Challenge In Gas Rate Hike Slated

. . . By Fremont

Fremont (AP)— The Fremont City Council has voted unanimously to challenge the second request in less than five months by Northern Natural Gas Co. to raise its rates.

The council acted to intervene in the proceedings on the rate increase application before the Federal Power Commission.

Nebraska Natural Gas Co., which serves Fremont, is supplied by Northern and it is expected any increase allowed would be reflected in Nebraska natural gas bills.

The City Council resolution said the proposed Northern Natural increases could result in an approximate $18 million general increase in costs for Nebraska Natural Gas Co.

Nebraska Natural Gas Co. also has filed application to intervene to oppose the request, according to the Fremont law firm of Sidner, Svoboda and Schilke.

The Fremont firm did increase its rates to customers by an average of 16% effective Feb. 1, because Northern rates to the company had increased.

However, the council decided at a Feb. 18 meeting that funds from the increased rates should be held in escrow until Northern's increase request is settled by the FPC. The funds are being held as a guarantee for possible refunds.

Bobcats Roaming

Oklahoma City (UPI) — A pair of bobcats is roaming southwestern Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Betty Martin — who had an unexpected but bloodless encounter with one of them — said it's time they were caught. "That thing could eat my little boy up in nothin flat," she said. "One of these evenings I'll probably step out on the porch and run into one of them. We might kill each other just trying to get out of there."

Home Plan Said Perpetuating Segregation

©The New York Times

Washington — Charging the Federal Housing Administration with "abdicating its responsibility," the United States Commission on Civil Rights said Thursday the burgeoning new home ownership program for low income families had been used to perpetuate segregation.

The commission said the FHA has, in effect, delegated its legal responsibility under the program to the private housing and home financing industry, which has largely ignored the intent of civil law.

As a result, the commission said, housing under the new program is following the same pattern as most other housing — mostly new homes for whites in the suburbs, mostly older and sometimes dilapidated homes for blacks in the central city.

The commission's findings were based on the first extensive study of the racial and ethnic impact of the home ownership program enacted in 1968. Staff members conducted a one-year investigation of the program in four cities selected to provide a cross-section of the nation — Philadelphia, St. Louis, Little Rock and Denver.

In all four metropolitan areas, the commission said, white and minority buyers were offered the housing on a segregated basis and "minority buyers received cheaper, inferior housing and smaller government subsidies than white buyers."

George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, who has jurisdiction over the FHA, issued a statement saying that FHA is legally structured to respond to the private market and does not by itself control site location and other practices.

"It is unfortunate that some of the commission's more sensational assertions, although largely unfounded or out of date, may distract public attention from its more constructive proposals," Romney said. "HUD has in fact been engaged in a range of actions over the past several months to make all of our programs more responsive to equal opportunity objectives as well as to the consumer generally."

The commission's allegations were among the harshest directed against a federal agency in its several years of prodding the government in behalf of minorities.

Funzapoppin at Devils Nest!

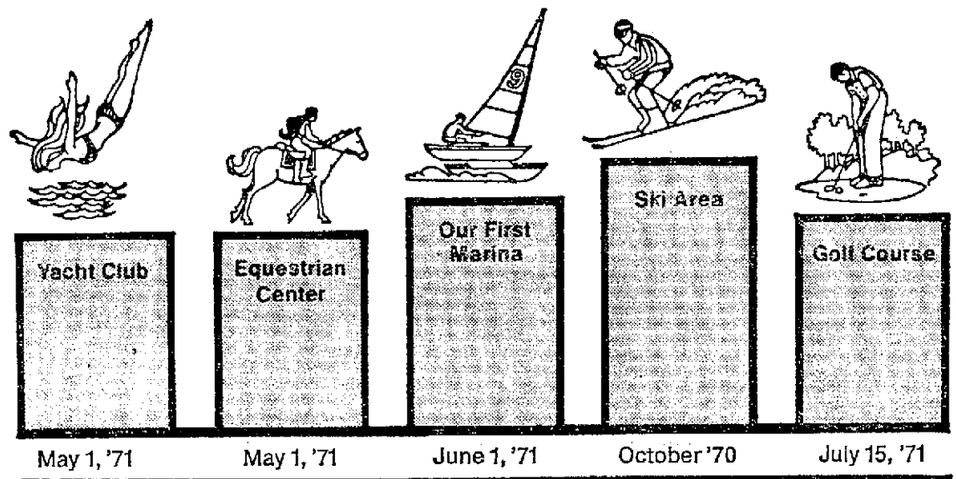

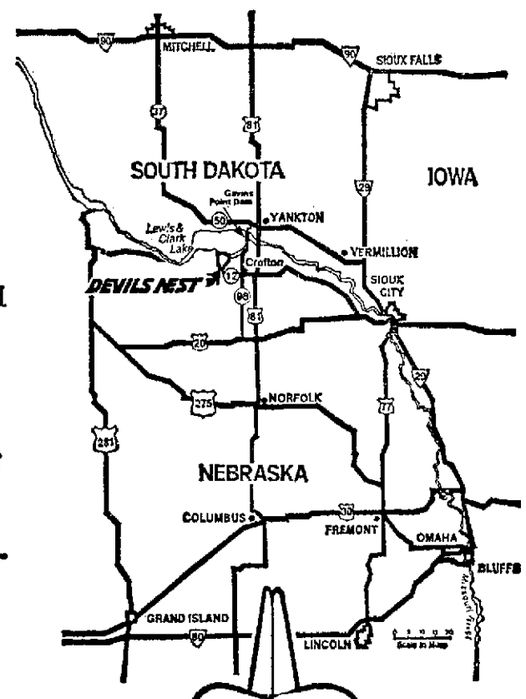

Exhibit homes are already in. So are 52,000 new trees and 40 acres of wildflowers. And we're busy installing streets, electricity, water and sewers.

See it all when you come to visit. You'll also see an abundance of beautiful homesites, some overlooking the lake—others with hills-and-forest views.

This is the time to "get in on the ground floor" at Devils Nest. Make your property choice now, for as low as $3000 cash. Pay-as-you-go terms. Build a resort home or condominium, or move a mobile home onto a lot in the special areas reserved for mobile home living.

Take a tour of our winter ski area, where we'll put in Nebraska's first double-chair lift, as well as poma tows for beginners. Check the progress on our Yacht Club, marina, golf course and equestrian center.

The funtime possibilities are endless at Devils Nest. But the time to act is now. Tear out the map; drive up and across Gavins Point Dam right away.

Easter Seal Gets Over $27,000 In Lancaster County

Lancaster county residents have contributed more than $27,000 to the Nebraska Easter Seal Society's annual fund drive, according to Robert Magee, county chairman.

Funds are still being counted and final county and state figures will be available later, but Easter Seal Society Acting Executive Director Lettia Simmons said "Lancaster County residents have been a great help in providing funds for continued Easter Seal services to their handicapped neighbors for the coming year."

Some of these services include physical and speech therapy, hearing aids, braces, wheel chairs, and hospital equipment, a summer camping program and transportation to medical centers and special schools.

High-Rise Procedure Eyed

The procedure for selecting tenants for the Lincoln Housing Authority's high-rise for the elderly is expected to be formulated within the next month or two, housing authority commissioners agreed Thursday.

The high-rise public housing project, to be built in the Havelock area, will consist of 120 housing units.

Commissioners noted that calls from persons interested in living in the high-rise are already coming in. They felt some procedure should be set up now so that someone does not lose out by not being the first to call.

Leased Housing Director Herb Hamilton said he hoped some of the units could be filled by low-income elderly already living under the leased housing program operated by the Housing Authority.

Hamilton said that his office is facing difficulty with retaining some of the homes leased from private owners because the amount the Housing Authority is allowed for rent does not meet market conditions.

Moving the tenants into the high-rise, he said, would free some of the units for the private owners from the leased housing program.

The number of elderly under leased housing is small in the Havelock area and those there could then be relocated without a disruption in their living patterns, it was pointed out.

Commissioners stressed, though, that the project is to serve the entire community.

Defectors Reported

Munich (AP) — Border officials report that Communist military defectors to West Germany between 1960 and 1970 included 1,983 East Germans, 74 Czechoslovaks and four Russians.

Gen. Ryan's Daughter Faces Trial In Connection With Drug Charges

By TIM AHERN
The Associated Press

A preliminary hearing and a trial on criminal drug charges are scheduled June 23 in Lancaster County Court for the 23-year-old daughter of U.S. Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John D. Ryan.

She is Mrs. Patricia Jo Cornell, who along with her husband, Carlyle P. Cornell III, were arrested June 2 by the Nebraska State Patrol at a farmhouse near Princeton, about 14 miles south of Lincoln, according to the Lancaster County Attorney's office.

Both she and her husband were arraigned June 3 before County Court Judge Ralph Slocum.

Each is charged with a felony and a misdemeanor. The alleged felony, according to Asst. Lancaster County Atty. Robert Gibson, is possession "with intent to manufacture, deliver, sell, or dispense" phencyclidine, a drug commonly called "PCP," which is used as a tranquilizer for small animals. Conviction carries a prison sentence of one to five years.

The misdemeanor charge is possession of less than one pound of marijuana with conviction meaning a possible jail sentence or fine.

At their arraignments, each pleaded not guilty to the marijuana charge and entered no plea to the felony charge.

Judge Slocum set a preliminary hearing for June 23 on the felony charge and a trial for the same date on the marijuana charge.

Bond was set at $1,500 for each, Gibson said, and the county clerk's office reported that both are free on bond.

Mrs. Cornell graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1970. Her father was stationed at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha from 1964 to 1967, where he was commander-in-chief of the Strategic Air Command (SAC).

County Attorney Paul Douglas said two other persons were arrested along with the Cornells although only one of the two was charged.

Douglas said Marilyn K. Heiser, 22, was not charged.

Arraigned on the same offenses as the Cornells was Thomas Green, 22, who pleaded innocent to the marijuana charge and entered no plea on the PCP charge.

He is also scheduled to appear in County Court June 23.

2 Youths Found Guilty; Charged With Exposure

Two youths charged last week with felony offenses of indecent exposure in connection with an incident at Lincoln Heights Park were found guilty in Lancaster County Court on amended misdemeanor indecent exposure charges.

David D. Chrisp, 20, of 815 Judson, entered a no contest plea to the amended charge, while David Roy Hanneman, 18, of 1527 Sioux, pleaded guilty to the amended charge.

A felony charge of rape is still pending against Benjamin Raymond Craig 18, of 1920 Washington.

According to police, a 12-year-old girl was allegedly raped when she returned to the park to get a shoe she had left there earlier. At the same time, a 13-year-old girl was allegedly detained in their car by three other nude youths, who had been swimming in the nude at the Belmont Pool earlier.

Union Station Eyed As Museum

Omaha (UPI) — Mayor Eugene Leahy said Thursday there is a possibility of converting Omaha's Union Station into a western transportation museum.

He said the possibility is under discussion among city and Union Pacific railroad officials.

"Something ought to be done with the station," Leahy said. "A monument like that should not be torn down."

The railroad stopped using the station May 1 when it discontinued passenger service. The National Railroad Passenger Corp., known as Amtrak, uses the Burlington Northern depot for its passenger train operations.

Crime Unit Backs YMCA As Coordinator

The Region II Crime Commission decided Thursday to recommend to the State Crime Commission that the YMCA be designated the administrative body coordinating youth services presently offered by the Nebraska Human Resources Foundation, the Lincoln Municipal Court and the YMCA.

Mrs. Robert Beggs, a member of the commission, said there is a great need for administrative coordination of youth services among the three groups and that the YMCA seemed the best qualified for this administrative task.

Mrs Beggs said the Resources Foundation had the best expertise because of their young counselors to deal with socially, educationally, economically and racially disadvantaged groups but that the YMCA with their professional administrative staff and facilities seemed best able to perform the administrative function.

The Crime Commission approved application made by the Lincoln Municipal Court asking for one more probation counselor and the addition of a psychologist and a secretary to the staff.

The application for next year's funds by the Lincoln Police Department Boy's Camp was approved as was a request made by the Lancaster sheriff's office for another mobile unit radio and a radio for the tax unit.

The Crime Commission's chairman, Thomas Pansing, said that Lincoln has 1.1 policemen for every 1,000 residents compared to the national average 1.7 policemen for every 1,000 people. While noting that Lincoln is not New York, he said he did feel that police manpower should be increased. A resolution to that effect was subsequently passed.

Average Auction Yield Is 7.83%

©The New York Times

Washington — The Federal National Mortgage Association announced Thursday that it had purchased $273.7 million of mortgages in this week's special "auction" out of $1.1 billion offered.

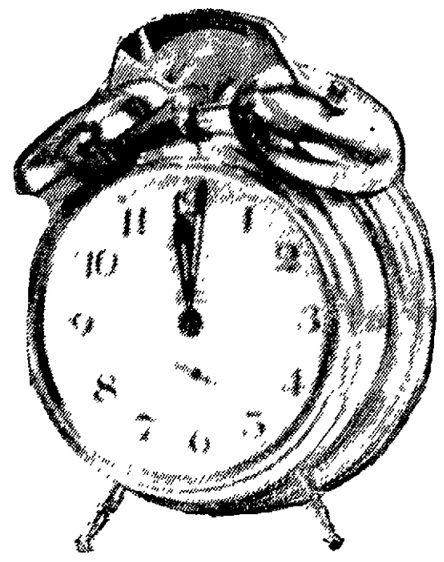

The average yield was 7.83%, a quarter of a per cent lower than at the last regular auction.

A major aim of the special auction was to relieve an "overhang" of mortgages in the hands of mortgage bankers and thus to remove one cause of the recent renewed upturn in mortgage interest rates.

McManus Appointed

Lincoln Municipal Court Judge Thomas J. McManus has been appointed chairman of the committees on traffic offenses and juveniles for the North American Judges Association.

Competitor Offers Deal To Eliminate Lockheed

Washington (UPI) — Sen William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Thursday the McDonnell-Douglas Corp has offered to reimburse three airlines for the $200 million they might lose if Congress lets Lockheed Aircraft Corp. go broke

In exchange for its $200 million loss under that deal, McDonnell-Douglas would see the elimination of Lockheed as a potential competitor in the intensely competitive aviation industry.

As part of the deal, the airlines — Trans World, Eastern and Delta — would have to buy McDonnell-Douglas DC10s instead of the 94 Lockheed TriStars they have ordered. They have paid Lockheed $200 million as advances on the planes

Proxmire reported the offer at a Senate Banking Committee hearing to Chairman Secor D. Browne of the Civil Aeronautics Board He said he learned of it "indirectly" Browne said he could hardly believe it.

'No Free Lunch'

"There is no such thing as a free lunch," he said, suggesting McDonnell-Douglas raise the prices of its DC10s to recover the $200 million

In St Louis, McDonnell-Douglas said it would not comment on Proxmire's announcement

Browne and Treasury Secretary John B. Connally have cited the potential loss of the $200 million down payments as one reason the administration proposed that Congress save Lockheed from bankruptcy through a loan gurantee.

Proxmire opposes the guarantee, contending that if it were enacted Congress would be unable to refuse to save other companies which run into financial trouble

Under the administration bill, the U S Treasury would repay $250 million worth of bank loans to Lockheed if the firm fails and defaults on the loans Lockheed says it needs the money to finance the TriStar, a 400-passenger jet intended to compete with McDonnell-Douglas' forthcoming DC10

'Tortured Myself'

Browne endorsed the administration solution to Lockheed's financial pinch, although he acknowledged to Proxmire that "I have tortured myself a lot about the guarantee question"

He said he favored it because it was "fairly riskless" for the government.

Browne said TWA had put $90 million in the TriStar, Eastern had paid $73 6 million and Delta had advanced $36 4 million For Delta, the investment represents 15% of its total debt

Proxmire contended that there is insufficient demand for airplanes to support three American manufacturers McDonnell-Douglas and Boeing are other major builders of commercial aircraft

MICHAEL RENNIE

Film, TV Star Michael Rennie Dies At Age 62

Harrogate England (AP) — Tall, distinguished-looking Michael Rennie, who got his start in films as a stand-in and became a star in movies and television on both sides of the Atlantic, died Thursday He was 62

He collapsed while visiting his mother.

Rennie, 6 feet 4 with a face of hawklike handsomeness, most recently was the star of the long-running "Third Man" television series in this country

Role In

He was under contract to 20th Century-Fox in Hollywood for a time during the 1950s and appeared in numerous films and television shows in the United States His latest Hollywood picture was "Hotel" in 1966, in which he played a titled Englishman accused of hit-run driving.

In a movie career dating back to 1940 he appeared in such films as "The Black Rose," "The Day the Earth Stood Still," "Les Miserables," "The Robe," "King of the Khyber Rifles," "Demetrius and the Gladiators," "Desiree," "Soldier of Fortune" and "The Rains of Ranchipur."

More recently he concentrated on science fiction in vehicles including "The Lost World" and guest appearances on TV's "Lost in Space"

In "The Third Man" he played the central character Harry Lime in the adventure series set in Europe

Rennie was credited with popularizing the phrase, "Take me to your leader."

He made the remarks in the 1951 film "The Day the Earth Stood Still" after stepping from a flying saucer that had landed in Washington He played the role of an ambassador from another planet

Insurance Ratio Up

Washington — About 14% of the home mortgages insured by the FHA last year covered new and existing homes in blighted areas of cities This was double the proportion of home mortgages insured in such areas in 1967

FTC Will Order Industries To Substantiate Advertising

©The New York Times

Washington — The Federal Trade Commission, invoking previously unused authority, announced its intention Thursday to order all major industries to substantiate their advertising claims

Orders to file data in support of claims involving the safety, performance, efficiency, quality and comparative prices of advertised products will be issued, industry by industry, about every three months. The files will be open to the public.

The first order, now being drafted will be directed to automobile manufacturers Data filed as a result is expected to be available for public inspection in about six months

Every Industry

'Eventually we will get out orders against every major industry," Joseph Pitofsky, director of the commission's Consumer Protection Bureau said at a news conference

The program, described by Pitofsky as a "very significant" departure from established procedures, was set up by the five-member commission at a meeting Wednesday.

In a unanimous resolution, the commission asserted its authority to order substantiating data and to disclose it to the public and said it was motivated by the following considerations

Rational Choice

—Public disclosure "can assist consumers in making a rational choice among competing claims which purport to be based on objective evidence"

—Advertisers are not voluntarily meeting "the public's need for this information."

—Public disclosure "can enchance competition by encouraging competitors to challenge advertising claims which have no basis in fact"

Nader Petition

— The knowledge that documentation or the lack thereof will be made public will encourage advertisers to have on hand adequate substantiation before claims are made'

The commission's action was prompted by a petition filed last December by Ralph Nader and other consumer advocates. Nader and two consumer organizations accused advertisers of making "vague claims which give consumers no real understanding" of the performance of their products.

In addition the petitioners contended, advertisers "invoke clinical tests with little scientific basis to substantiate claims and otherwise deliberately mislead and confuse the consumer"

They asked the commission to issue a regulation requiring advertisers to file substantiating data at the time their advertisements were broadcast or published

Nader, asked for comment on the commission's somewhat different approach, issued this statement: "It's a first step, it's an encouraging sign. If it's a full response to our petition, it's inadequate."

Pitofsky indicated that the commission had decided to issue periodic orders because it lacked sufficient money and manpower to handle great masses of data from all advertisers simultaneously

Sadat Says Israel Enemy For Long Time To Come

©The New York Times

Cairo — President Anwar el-Sadat declared Thursday that the Arabs faced a battle for generations against Israel

He said the Jewish state would hang like 'the Sword of Damocles" over the Arabs long after they had recovered the lands lost in the 1967 war

The challenge of 'Zionist aggression' he said, is a compelling reason for the Egyptians to build a modern state armed with the most up-to-date weapons of science and progress"

Sadat spoke on radio and television to outline principles and objectives of nationwide elections for a reorganization of the Arab Socialist Union Egypt's sole political organization

The elections, which will start July 1 are an outcome of the political challenge to Sadat's leadership four weeks ago by an influential faction inside the Arab Socialist Union

Sadat has pledged that the coming elections will be free of the manipulations that characterized voting in the past

A permanent constitution is also being drafted, and Sadat reiterated Thursday that it should guarantee "rule by law" and other rights for the people

But the first priority of Egypt, he emphasized, is the recovery of the land occupied by Israel four years ago

'The battle comes first, second and last,' Sadat declared declared

Warning the Egyptians that they were "called upon to sacrifice lives in order to live," Sadat said that there would be no peace between Egypt and Israel until two conditions had been fulfilled recovery of the occupied land and 'the right of the Palestinian people to determine their own future"

Russian Blasts U.S. Mediation

Moscow (AP) — President Nikolai V Podgorny condemned Thursday night US efforts to mediate a Middle East peace and implied that American initiatives to promote an Arab-Israeli understanding were part of an 'imperialist intrigue"

At the same time, however, Podgorny praised the recent Soviet-American agreement on an agenda for their strategic arms talks and repeated what he said was Russia's desire to negotiate a settlement in Europe including the reduction of forces in the center of the continent

Though he didn't mention him by name Podgorny alluded to U S Secretary of State William P Rogers and his attempts to arbitrate the Middle East crisis He spoke of the self-interested aims' of some imperialists' who pose as mediators "while they continue to provide all-round support to the Israeli expansionists"

WHAT'S BEST TO TAKE FOR Dull, Throbbing Pain Of Nervous Tension Headaches?

Anyone who suffers from tension headaches knows only too well how the throbbing pain can dull efficiency, play havoc with nerves and slow you down.

What's best to take? Clinical tests by doctors on over 500 patients who complained of tension headaches proved Anacin® relieves nervous tension headaches just as effectively as the expensive leading prescription. Yet Anacin needs no prescription and costs far less.

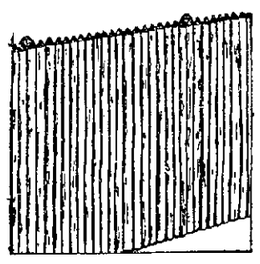

Here is other convincing evidence of the effectiveness of Anacin. A survey of over 1,600 specialists in internal medicine showed twice as many doctors said they would recommend the Anacin formula to relieve pain over that of the other leading extra-strength tablet. Yes, twice as many doctors prefer Anacin's formula.

You can trust Anacin to relieve headache pain in minutes. Then its nervous tension and painful pressure on nerves go, too. Anacin lets you do a better job. Lets you function better.

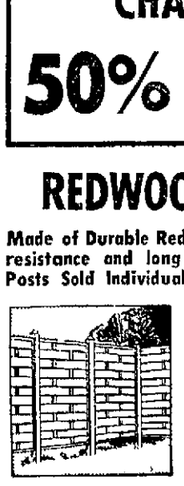

Despite its great strength, Anacin is not habit forming. You can take it without getting an upset stomach. It makes good sense to take fast-acting, extra-strong Anacin Tablets.

Now Shooting Baskets

Ten years ago, you might have had to spend several days looking for any Nebraska youngsters shooting baskets in the middle of the summer.

Any youngster, who had any inclination to pursue a sport as a summer-time activity, was on a baseball diamond. But nowadays, youngsters are filling gymnasiums across Nebraska with a basketball in hand.

The sounds of basketballs bouncing can be heard any time from daybreak to darkness at the NU Coliseum where Husker head coach Joe Cipriano and his staff are working with hordes of youngsters from fourth and fifth graders to high school juniors.

"Basketball in Nebraska has improved a lot in the past few years," Cipriano points out. "The camps are one reason because it means boys are playing the game in the summer as well as the winter.

"They're also getting better coaching in school and the competition is getting better which makes for better players."

Cipriano's camp also has helped him in recruiting. "About 60% of our roster is boys who have been to our camp," he notes. "And we've gotten some boys because we had them in the camp."

Horses More Dangerous Than Autos

A study conducted by the American Medical Association in 1964 reveals that horse racing is more dangerous than auto racing as far as deaths are concerned.

The death rate per 100,000 participants, according to the study was 133.3 for horse racing as compared with 120 for auto racing.

Other leading sports in deaths per 100,000 participants were power boat racing with 16.7 and 278.6 for motorcycle racing, by far the most dangerous.

Football, meanwhile, ranked very low, showing only 3.9 deaths for every 100,000 participants or one for every three million man hours of exposure.

And if you're wondering whether your high school-aged youngster would be safer this fall participating in football practice or driving his girl friend to get a soda after school, you'd better let him play football.

Dr. Charles M. Henderson, a Baltimore neurosurgeon, who has conducted a thorough study of athletic injuries, claims your youngster faces nine times the hazards while driving a car home from school than he does on the football practice field.

No Shaggy-Haired Browns

Members of the Cleveland Browns football team have been notified by new coach Nick Skorich they'd better visit their barber before showing up for camp.

Skorich has warned them: "No hair will be showing out from underneath the helmet; sideburns will be no longer than the bottom of the ear; moustaches won't come below the upper lip or extend out beyond the edge of it."

New Missouri football coach Al Onofrio scouted Stanford, the Tigers' opening 1971 opponent, in their final spring game, but came back figuring he probably didn't learn much — Stanford did not use any of its 27 seniors in the contest.

Just thinking about the schedule millionaire golfer Arnold Palmer had for the two weeks before his recent appearance in Omaha is enough to make one tired.

It went like this: Monday — exhibition in Athens, Ga.; Tuesday — exhibition at Hilton Head, S.C.; Wednesday — breakfast in his honor in Dallas followed by pro-am in afternoon; Thursday through Sunday — Byron Nelson Classic; Monday — Cleveland in the morning, New York City in the afternoon; Tuesday — Pittsburgh; Wednesday — practice round in Houston; Thursday through Sunday — Houston Champions Tournament; Monday — exhibition in Spokane; Tuesday — exhibition in Omaha.

When Carl Taylor of the Kansas City Royals, now an Omaha Royal, tried to relieve his frustrations recently by burning his uniform in the Royals' clubhouse, it reminded broadcaster Buddy Blattner of a time when his uniform also was burned.

"Management once set fire to mine," he recalled.

Southern Cal Eyes Back-To-Back CWS Titles

SILVER ANNIVERSARY SERIES O PENS TONIGHT IN OMAHA PARK

By MARK GORDON

Omaha — Southern California doesn't want to hit into a double play, but it certainly wants to complete one.

The defending national collegiate baseball champions are aiming not only to become the first squad since Texas in 1949 and 1950 to win consecutive championships in the College World Series (CWS), but to retain their first-place rating in the final 1971 baseball ratings.

The Trojans, winners of District 8, meet Seton Hall at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at Rosenblatt Stadium here, while Brigham Young University faces Harvard in tonight's opening game at 5:30 which will be followed by Tulsa dueling Mississippi State at 8 p.m.

While coach Rod Dedeaux's Trojans sport a sparkling 48-12 record for an .800 percentage, record-wise USC stands just fourth among the eight teams, indicating the strength of this year's tournament which will be held in Omaha for the 22nd straight year.

The 8 p.m. match Saturday between District 6 victor Pan American from Edinburg, Tex., and District 5 winner Southern Illinois throws together the squads with the best records in this double-elimination.

Pan American owns a 42-7 slate for .857 while the Salukis are 40-7 for .851. Harvard checks in at 26-6 for .813.

Winners of 21 straight games during one stretch this season, USC is paced in hitting by first baseman Daryl Arenstein (.329), outfielder Fred Lynn (.327) and infielder Tim Steele (.324). Steve Busby leads the hurlers with a 1.81 ERA compiled on a 10-1 record while Mark Sogge won 12 of 13 contests with a 1.92 ERA.

But the Trojans path to the crown in the CWS silver anniversary maybe blocked by hard-hitting Brigham Young and Southern Illinois. BYU, paced by the tourney's leading hitter, Dane Iorg (.484), averages 7.6 runs-per-game with a .320 batting average.

The Salukis, with a team batting average of .316 are paced by Jim Dwyer at .417, Duane Kuiper at .372 and Mike Eden at .369.

Ranked second in the final poll, Pan American defeated Texas for the District 6 title as pitching and a defensive total of 2.63 runs-allowed per game (the meet's best) have aided the Broncs.

Righthander Gary Doyle owns a 10-1 record with nine complete games and a 1.34 ERA while Lupe Salinas has captured 12 of 13 decisions with 11 route-going efforts and a 1.55 ERA. The Broncs are making their first CWS appearance.

Only Southern California returns from last year's CWS which attracted a record 74,683 patrons.

CWS Schedule

TRIPSVILLE REPEATS

. . . Owner's Shirt, Shoes, Socks Help Horse

By MARK GORDON
Star Sports Writer

Omaha — Superstition and repetition again produced handsome results for Tom Chaffee and Tripsville.

Tripsville ran the same race — a wire to wire triumph — like he did Memorial Day in the King's Handicap Thursday at Ak-Sar-Ben in capturing the $15,000 Cornhusker Prep.

The race was the final tuneup for three-year-olds and up prior to next Saturday's Cornhusker Handicap, the richest Nebraska horse race with a $50,000 added purse.

"I don't know if we'll enter him or not (in the Cornhusker)," said owner Chaffee of Topeka, Kan. "It's all up to Dwight (trainer Dwight Clum). We take them one race at a time and it's solely and strictly up to him if we enter Tripsville or not."

In scampering to a 1:43 3-5 clocking over the mile and 70 yards on a slow track, Tripsville won a decisive eight length verdict over Hydromatic Drive, which edged Agronomist by half a length.

Tripsville earned $8,250 for Chaffee and $6.60, $4.40 and $3.40 for backers, while Hydromatic Drive returned $2,850 for owners Dewey Sheldon and Quindy Demmitt of Plains, Kan., and $13.40 and $8.00. Show horse Agronomist paid $2,100 to Charlie Nicholas of Dillon, Mont., and $4.80.

"I wore the same pants, the same shirt and the same socks as the last time (King's Handicap)," Chaffee said. "To say the least, I'm superstitious — in fact, my shoes were thrown away by my wife, but I got them back."

Praising Clum for bringing Tripsville into condition for the King's Handicap and the Cornhusker Prep, Chaffee said he wasn't going to make any decisions about future races. "I'm going to leave that up to Dwight, he's done a marvelous job so far and I'm not going to change now."

"We just did the same thing as before," said jockey Fred Ecoffey. "I thought High Rover was the horse to beat, but I'm glad Might was scratched."

High Rover broke fourth and never challenged as he finished seventh, while Might, who was to have been an entry with Agronomist, was scratched early in the morning.

Tripsville broke on top, moved to a six-length lead going into the stretch, and won easily. Hydromatic Drive took an opposite path breaking last and then rallying to finish second, while Agronomist was closest to the leader throughout the race but then gave way in the stretch.

Chaffee said he was worried about the six other foes and credited the win to "a good horse, a good trainer, a good rider and a lot of luck."

In raising his 1971 earnings to $36,097, Tripsville picked up his fourth win in eight starts. The five-year-old black horse also shows two seconds and one third this year.

Weiskopf Into Lead At Kemper

Charlotte, N.C. (AP) — Tom Weiskopf, armed with a new putter, fired a sparkling six under par 66 and assumed the first round lead in the $150,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament Thursday.

The 28-year-old Weiskopf said a four-month layoff at the end of last year may have hurt his game.

"I didn't play after Labor Day," he said. "I just wanted to go hunting. I hadn't won a tournament, but I'd won almost $100,000 and had the lowest stroke average on the tour, so I thought I'd done pretty well."

Boyer Fined By Kuhn

New York (AP) — Clete Boyer, the jobless third baseman formerly with the Atlanta Braves, was slapped with a $1,000 fine Thursday by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for betting on college and pro football games in 1968 and 1969.

At the same time, the conclusion of Kuhn's investigation of Boyer's gambling activities clears the way for Boyer to sign with another club. All negotiations with the 34-year-old third baseman had been ordered suspended by Kuhn pending his finding.

The Associated Press has learned that since his departure from the Braves late last month Boyer has been contacted by the Oakland A's, currently the frontrunners in the Western Division of the American League.

Sooner AD Job Down To Three

Norman (AP) — University of Oklahoma president Dr. Pete Kyle McCarter has informed OU regents that the search for a new athletic director has been narrowed to three candidates.

McCarter said the OU Athletic Council has presented three nominations for a successor to Gomer Jones, stricken by a fatal heart attack March 21.

Six men had been mentioned for consideration, but one of them — Dee Andros, Oregon State University football coach — has withdrawn his name from consideration.

Others mentioned were Eddie Crowder, Bill Carroll, Harold Lahar, Wade Walker and Ted Owens.

Kemling Hoping To Get Back In Habit

. . . AMAJEWEL COULD GIVE AURORAN ANOTHER LASSIE WIN

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha — It had almost become a habit for Aurora's Paul Kemling to be in the winner's circle with one of his fillies after the running of the Ak-Sar-Ben Lassie Stakes.

A string of four straight trips to that winner's circle for Kemling was snapped a year ago when T. C. Evans' Lincoln's Miss got home first in the $12,500 event over 5 furlongs for Nebraska-bred, 2-year-old fillies.

But Kemling has what figures to be a heavy favorite for today's 11th running of the race that was won by Kemling's Bold Accent in 1967, Jeannie Kem and Merry Kem in split divisions in 1968 and Miss The Road in 1969.

The Kemling entry today is Amajewel, who at 120 pounds will be conceding from six to eight pounds to 13 rivals, one of whom is Little Shadower, owned by Kemling's son, Mike.

Amajewel, after winning two of three starts at Fonner Park, including the Fonner Park Juvenile Stakes, has been winless in three Ak-Sar-Ben outings.

But those that have kept the Kemling filly out of the winner's circle here haven't been Nebraska-bred fillies and thus won't be factors in today's effort.

At 120 pounds Amajewel will concede six pounds to Te Te Ann, Smokey's Sister and Z Irish Lover and eight pounds to Tudor Trio, Distuneful, Return Engagement, Rullah Deb, Peppy Whirl, Julian, Angel Page, Huskerline, Easter Service and Little Shadower.

—WISCONSIN GUNNER ALSO CAPTURES SECOND IN OPEN DOUBLES—

Hoppe Wins Director's Shoot Title At Trapshoot

By RANDY EICKHOFF
Star Staff Writer

Doniphan — The peaceful calm of this small village was broken Thursday morning by cries of "Pull" of "Yaaah" punctuated by gunblasts as the Nebraska State Trapshoot got underway at the Central Nebraska Gun Club.

Quite often, a return call of "Lost" followed immediately after the blast, but in the case of Wisconsin's Frank Hoppe, the lost call came few and far between as the ace shotgunner collected 100 straight in the 16-yard singles event and then backed that effort with a 97x100 in the handicap to claim the Director's Shoot Title with a final score of 197x200.

And if that wasn't enough, Hoppe also collected 10 pairs of doubles in a shootoff to win second-place laurels behind Omaha's Jim Beck in the Open Doubles Championships.

Several shooters had complained about the wind interfering with the flight of the rocks, but Hoppe said the wind didn't bother him at all.

"You might say the wind kinda helped me," Hoppe grinned following his win in the Director's Shoot. "That wind put them right where I wanted them."

Hoppe dropped one rock in his first 50 during the handicap but only lost one each of the following 25 to finish two rocks ahead to Clinton R. Bailey of Big Springs who collected 97 in the 16-yard singles and 98 from his handicap score for a composite of 195.

In the doubles, Beck only missed one rock to earn the trophy and first-place money with a score of 49x50 but four gunners managed to break 48 each to create a four-way tie for second place.

Hoppe was joined at the line for the shootoff by Omaha's B. E. Morrissey, the third best shooter in the nation in the 1970, and William Johnson of Holdrege. The fourth member of the quintet, Omahan John Voss, pleaded fatigue and didn't take part in the shootoff.

Morrissey was the first to crack under pressure as he missed the second rock on the fifth try. Johnson soon followed with misses on his sixth, seventh and eighth try while Hoppe cooly collected all 20 rocks allotted him during the shootoff to nab second-place honors.

The Eastern Zone Handicaps champion, 14-year-old David Scheer of Omaha, placed far out of the money with 88-84 scores for his 16-yard and handicap tries respectively.

Hoppe in his fourth year as a trapshooter, said it was extremely helpful to him to have gotten on the right squad for the shoot as his fellow squad members created an "easy feeling" for him.

"When you can laugh and joke with the members of your squad, you're a lot more relaxed at that line," he said. "When you get tensed up, you can easily drop a rock."

When asked to compare competition in Nebraska to that of Wisconsin, Hoppe an exNebraskan himself said, "The Nebraska shooters are the most competitive and the toughest ones around."

The second day of the four-day affair consisting of the Nebraska Doubles Championships, the Nebraska Open and Open Class, and the Nebraska Open Handicap will get underway at 10 a.m., today.

San Diego Home Runs Dump Mets

By Associated Press

Clay Kirby fired a four-hitter and home runs by Ollie Brown and Nate Colbert helped the San Diego Padres to a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets Thursday afternoon

The remainder of the abbreviated major league schedule was under the lights. Boston, Oakland, Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs were idle

Kirby struck out 13 and retired 12 straight batters over one stretch He allowed only two hits after the third inning

Ed Kranepool gave the Mets a two-run lead in the first when he ripped his fifth home run into the right field bullpen following a two-out walk to Dave Marshall

Rain postponed Thursday night's American League game between the Washington Senators and the Kansas City Royals

It was rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader Aug 20

Ray Fosse's three-run homer and Ted Uhlaender's two-run double backed the five-hit pitching of Ray Lamb as the Cleveland Indians downed the Chicago White Sox 9-0, completing a sweep of their three-game series.

Rick Wise pitched a seven hitter and Terry Harmon keyed two rallies as the Philadelphia Phillies stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-2

Houston (AP) — Tom Kelley held Houston hitless until the seventh hurling the Atlanta Braves to Cecil Upshaw in the ninth in rurling the Atlanta Braves to a 2-1 victory over 10-game winner Larry Dierker and the Astros

Frank Robinson drove in five runs in the first three innings as the Baltimore Orioles crushed Minnesota, 12-0, behind Jim Palmer's six-hitter for their eighth straight victory

John Bateman's tie-breaking double capped a two-run rally in the fifth inning and the Montreal Expos went on to trim San Francisco 3-1 behind right-hander Carl Morton for a three-game sweep over the stumbling Giants.

Bob Robertson slugged his 12th home run and Manny Sanguillen added a run-scoring single in lifting the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-1 victory over the slumping St Louis Cardinals

Norm Cash delivered his second game-winning hit in a row, blasting a two-run homer in the sixth inning to power the Detroit Tigers to a 3-2 victory over the skidding Milwaukee Brewers

Stan Bahnsen tossed a five-hitter for his fourth straight complete-game victory as the New York Yankees nipped the fumbling California Angels, 3-2 in a late West coast game

Suit Filed By Condors

New York (AP) — The Pittsburgh Condors of the American Basketball Association filed suit Thursday against the Chicago Bulls of the National Basketball Association and Villanova star Howard Porter

Englehorn Withdraws

Sutton, Mass (AP) — Jane Blalock and Kathy Ahern a couple of young hopefuls on the women's golf circuit, charged into a share of the lead as defending champion Shirley Englehorn was forced to withdraw Thursday in the opening round of the $55,000 LPGA Championship

Beach III Files Suit

New York (AP) —Walter Beach III a former defensive back for the Cleveland Browns, is suing the National Football League and the Browns, contending they conspired in recent years to deny him a position "because of his race" and political and racial views.

Montreal Names Bowman To Post

Montreal (AP) — Scotty Bowman, former coach and general manager with the St Louis Blues, was named Thursday to succeed Al MacNeil as coach of the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League

The announcement of Bowman's hiring and MacNeil's replacement came in two different statements issued here at the site of the NHL meetings and in Halifax, N.S, where MacNeil accepted the job of coach and general manager of the American League's Voyageurs

MacNeil has been under fire for some time and there had been widespread speculation he would offer his resignation following public criticism of his coaching by star center Henri Richard.

Redskins Sign Ex-Jet Player

Washington (AP) — The Washington Redskins have signed All-Pro defensive end Verlon Biggs who had played out his option with the New York Jets, Coach George Allen announced Thursday

In return for Biggs, the Redskins will give the Jets their first round draft choice next year and a choice in 1973 The Redskins also will receive what were described as "medium choices" in 1972 and 1973 from the Jets

"The way we see it is that Verlon is our first draft choice for next year," Allen told a news conference "I had told our scouting staff that I wanted us to draft a defensive lineman with our first choice and now we have him."

Sooners Dominate Elite Squad

Kansas City, Mo. — Five repeaters from last year, underclassmen, and Oklahoma's co-runnerup Sooners, with four representatives, dominate the all-Big Eight Conference baseball team picked by the league's players and coaches.

Heading the list of those who successfully defended spots on the team is Oklahoma's Mike Swenton, who landed an outfield slot for the third straight year. Swenton won his spot this year combining sharp fielding with his third good year at the plate—.303 and five home runs. He becomes only the second to grab a first-team spot three years running since the league began picking an all-star team. The first to do it was Oklahoma State's Tony Sellari, a catcher in 1965-66-67.

Holding positions earned last year were Oklahoma's Bobby Jack, a junior first baseman who hit .333 for league games, and Missouri's Bill Todd, pitcher who had a 4-2 year with a 2.23 earned run average his junior season

Nebraska failed to land a player on either the first or second team

The selections:

Royals Capture Sixth Straight

Omaha (AP) — Bill Sorrell's grand slam homerun in the second inning sparked Omaha to a 5-4 American Association victory over Wichita Thursday night.

It was the sixth win in a row for the Royals and completed a sweep of the four-game series with the Aeros.

The Aeros rallied to within one run in the ninth inning, but Lance Clemons relieved to save the victory for righthander Monty Montgomery.

Sandy Valdespino opened the sixth with a bunt single for the Royals and scored what proved to be the winning run as Sorrell and Buck Martinez followed with singles off Wichita loser Chuck Machemel.

Brakes Lock, Train Derails

. . . 10 PASSENGERS DIE

Salem, Ill. (AP) — The passenger train City of New Orleans left its tracks at more than 90 miles per hour Thursday, killing 10 persons and injuring 94 in a swirl of twisted metal and flame.

Officials of the Illinois Central Railroad, which operates the train under the new national Amtrak system, said the derailment was caused by locked brakes on the lead diesel of the 18-unit train.

The Chicago-to-New Orleans train churned up more 1,200 feet of rail in each direction when it left the tracks at Tonti, a whistle stop three miles south of this southern Illinois town.

Fire

Fire burst from two of the four lead diesel locomotives and they and seven of the 14 cars overturned, skidding along the roadbed in a shower of chipped metal and wood.

A number of bodies were recovered under twisted rails. Some passengers were thrown through splintered windows of the train's 13 coaches. Others were trapped under overturned cars. Rescue teams used acetylene torches to cut through webs of rails and metal to reach the screaming injured.

In Washington, the National Transportation Board dispatched a team to investigate the accident, the first fatal wreck involving a major Amtrak train.

One survivor, Mrs. R. L. King of Paducah, Ky., said she had just finished eating a "bad tasting hamburger" in the diner and was "kidding about suing the IC when all hell broke loose.

"I had been in two other wrecks and I knew they don't hit the brakes like that unless something serious has happened . . . The car started tumbling over and over. It landed upside down and part of the top sunroof was off."

She said a couple from Berwyn, Ill., dining with her, were hurled through a window.

"His wife was bleeding and her ear was nearly torn off," she said. "There were people trapped under the tables and I was afraid the car would burst into flames."

She said her friend kept shouting, "Get out! Get out!"

"I got out as soon as I could find my shoes," she said.

The railroad at one point reported 16 persons dead in the derailment, but later revised the figure to 10. The injured were taken to hospitals in Salem, Centralia, Flora, Mount Vernon and St. Louis.

Alan S. Boyd, president of the Illinois Central, said, "The exact count of victims was difficult to make because of the various hospitals used in all directions from Tonti."

200 Passengers

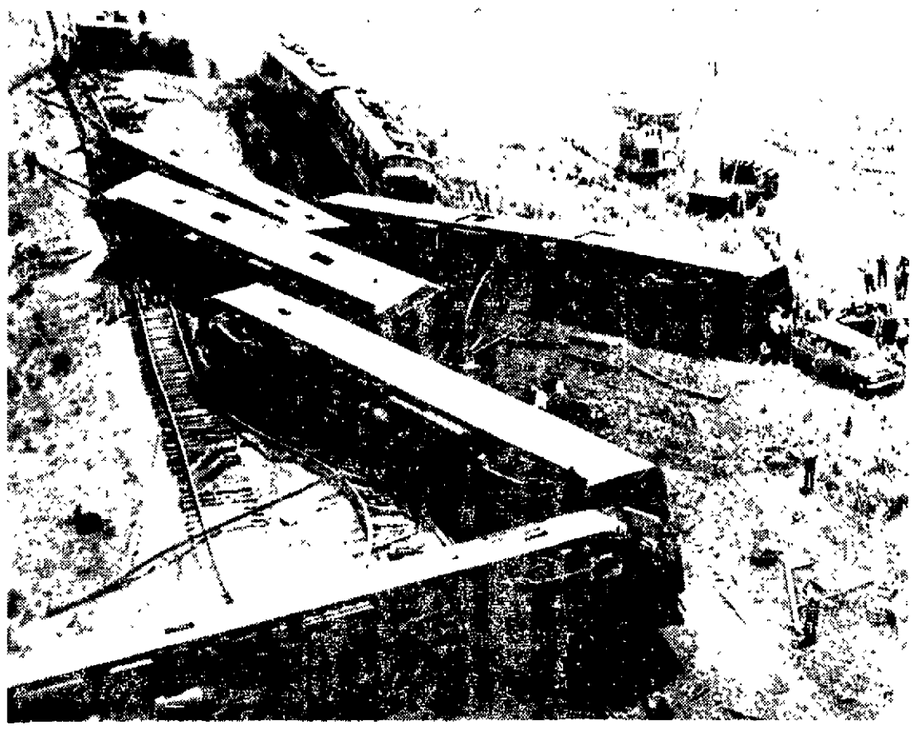

The train carried 200 passengers when it left Chicago at 8 a.m. It was due in New Orleans at 1:30 a.m. Friday. The train stopped at Homewood, Kankakee, Rantoul, Champaign, Mattoon and Effingham before the accident.

Geraldine Hunter, who lives half a mile from the crash area, was one of the first witnesses to arrive on the scene.

"There were some terrible things," she said. "Dead people on the rails and other people under the rails. And there were just parts of people . . ."

Her son, James, 23, said, "The cars were just scattered out like spaghetti. They were end to end, you know, and just all over . . . One piece of track was tossed about 100 yards into a bean field."

The train was made up of the four diesel locomotives, 13 coaches and one baggage car.

'Mikado' Enthralls G&S Admirers

By LINDA SULLIVAN
Star Staff Writer

Any Gilbert & Sullivan fans with soft spots in their theatrical hearts for "The Mikado" have some fun anead this summer at the East Hills Supper Club.

Thursday night, the Lincoln Community Playhouse Cabaret Theater and the supper club opened their season with the show, one of Gilbert & Sullivan's most famous musical collaborations.

Set in the story-book land of Titipu, a small city of Japan, "The Mikado" tells in light operatic fashion the story of Ko-Ko, Titipu's Lord High Executioner, and the frustrating, nonsensical problems the man must handle.

Execution Ordered

Ko-Ko, it seems, is a man who thought he'd never have to take his job seriously. Then one day he gets a letter from His Imperial Highness, the Mikado of Japan. The order declares that Titipu has been too long without an execution, and if Ko-Ko doesn't come up with one soon, he's out of a job.

Prime execution material it seems, is the despondent and cooperative Nanki-poo, a wandering minstrel whose love, Yum-Yum, is about to marry Ko-Ko. Since Ko-Ko can't stand the thought of killing, he agrees to let Nanki-poo take Yum-Yum if he'll disappear and let everyone think he was executed.

But there's another problem. Nanki-poo turns out to be the son of the Mikado who bolted from the Imperial Court to escape the dubious charms of the less than lovely Katisha.

All this leaves Ko-Ko in the unsettling position of finding himself presenting the Mikado with the death certificate of his son.

How Ko-Ko and the gang work themselves out of these predicaments will be a delight to many play-goers and a trial to others. But for those who might be bored, the bone to pick seems to be with Gilbert & Sullivan, not LCP Cabaret Theater.

For the LCP production is good. The choruses are sometimes weak and garbled, but the solo numbers are consistently well done. Nanki-poo, played by Don Pedersen, Yum-Yum (Jan Beal) and the arrogant and hilarious Pooh-Bah (George Carpenter) all come through in fine musical styles.

And Ko-Ko, of course, is the show. In his interpretation of Ko-Ko, Gary Love shows the audience a glimpse of a man who at first seems to be haughty and callous, only to later reveal himself as gentle and delightfully humorous.

Performances will run June 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, July 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, 24, August 12, 13, 14, 19, 20, 21.

100 Expected At State Bar Summer Meet

More than 100 attorneys and judges are expected to attend the mid-year meeting of the Nebraska State Bar Association in Lincoln Friday and Saturday.

The announcement of a new research committee for the State Bar will be made at the meeting, according to Thomas M. Davies, Lincoln attorney and president of the association. The new committee is being formed to study problem areas in legal procedures and court practices. They will make recommendations to the Bar for improvement programs.

A special luncheon Friday noon for attorneys and judges will feature R. Stanley Lowe, associate director of the American Judicature Society in Chicago. He will outline current research programs of the society and will indicate how cooperation with the new committee can benefit the state and national effort.

Programs for the remainder of the year will be set during committee meetings Friday afternoon and the election of a chairman-elect for the House of Delegates of the Bar Association will take place Saturday.

All sessions and lunches, to be held in the Radisson Cornhusker Hotel, are open to all attorneys.

Department Store Sales Go Up 5%

©The New York Times

Washington — The Commerce Department reported department store sales for the latest week ended June 5 were an estimated $746 million, an increase of 5% above the $312 million sales last year.

Total retail store sales for the latest week was an estimated $7,294,000,000, virtually unchanged from the $7,272,000,000 sales for the same period last year.

Woman Sues Store; Claims Injuries In Fall

A $201,500 suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court against J. L. Brandeis & Sons in connection with a Dec. 2, 1969, accident in which a woman shopping at the Lincoln store fell on an escalator stair.

Dorothy M. Taylor alleges that in response to advertising of the store, she went to the store for the purpose of shopping and making purchases and as she stepped onto a stair of the escalator between the first and second floors, she lost her balance and fell, suffering multiple injuries.

She contends that the escalator was in an unsafe and dangerous condition in that the surfaces were not solidly affixed and tilted when a person would stand on the edge of the stairs.

She contends she suffered internal injuries, a fractured knee and foot and severe shock resulting in multiple surgery and permanent scars as well as temporary total disability.

Man Files Suit; Lost Fingers In Combine Mishap

An $83,924.25 suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court by Roger E. Stehlik in connection with a Nov. 12, 1969 combine accident in which he lost three fingers on one hand.

Stehlik in his action against Clarence F. Siedhoff contends that he was operating a combine in harvesting milo on the defendant's farms when the air breather on the combine became clogged.

According to the petition, Siedhoff stopped and attempted to clean the breather and as a result of his negligence, the plaintiff's left arm and hand were caught in the belt and pulley.

The plaintiff alleges the defendant was negligent in failing to provide a safe place for work, in not warning the plaintiff the perils and dangers, in not providing safeguards, in failing to instruct the plaintiff and in failing to maintain the machine properly.

As a result of the mishap, he alleges he sustained fractures, lacerations and amputation of three fingers.

Rural Beatrice Woman Killed In Car-Truck Crash

Lincoln Star Special

Beatrice — A young woman from rural Beatrice died at a hospital here early Thursday evening of injuries received in a car-truck collision on a county road one mile east of Pickrell.

The victim, Mrs. Elaine Murray, 25, was the driver of a westbound auto which was in collision with a eastbound truck driven by Ollie Harms, 60, of rural Adams.

Harms was treated at a Beatrice hospital for cuts and bruises and released.

Mrs. Murray's daughter Lori, 3, was also treated and released for injuries suffered when she was thrown from the auto.

Stock Mart Moves Into Plus Column

New York (AP) — The stock market moved gingerly into the plus column Thursday after two sessions of decline.

Trading was sluggish, and gainers were able to maintain only a fragile lead over losers among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

"A lot of people are cautious and waiting to see what is going to happen to the economy," said Eldon A. Grimm, analyst and senior vice president of the brokerage firm of Walston & Co. "The business recovery seems to be dragging."

Activity by institutional investors waned with big block trades — 10,000 shares or more — falling to 86 from 108 Wednesday on the New York exchange. Volume dropped to 12.45 million shares from 14.26 million in the previous session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed with a gain of 3.50 at 915.96, its best level of the session, after a sinking spell during late trading. The Associated Press 60-stock average moved up .4 to 323.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .1 and utilities up .1

The New York Stock Exchange index of 1,300 common stocks added 0.17 at 55.60. Standard & Poor's 300-stock index was up .35 to 100.64.

Among 1,660 issues traded on the New York exchange, 708 advanced and 631 declined. There were 48 new 1971 highs and 47 new lows.

Rubber issues, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals and oils were mostly higher.

United Brands, up ½ at 15½ on total volume of 256,300 shares, including a block of 194,500 shares, led the Big Board's most active list.

Polaroid, which spurted 6¼ Wednesday on announcement of a new color camera, was nipped by profit taking for a loss of 1¼ at 113.

The American Stock Exchange price change index dipped .01 to 25.89. Declines edged advances by 423 to 411 among 1,128 issues traded. Volume totaled 3.32 million shares, even with Wednesday's figure.

Corporate and government bonds declined.

Hog Prices Go Higher At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Butcher hog prices turned unevenly higher Thursday as receipts were cut to a little over 5,200.

Porkers falling in the shipping type class and averaging 200-240 lbs. were in the most demand and those sold 50-75 higher with around two loads well sorted, making a 19.25 bid for outside top honors. Other butchers sold steady to 25 higher, sows steady to instances 50 higher.

Butcher hogs averaging 190-240 lb. sold 17.75-19.00 with many sales noted 18.50 or better.

Sows 650 lbs. or lighter sold 14.00-15.25, the latter ticket marked for some near 399 lbs.

Slaughter steers and heifers were steady in slow trading.

Choice steers were topped off at 32.75, and choice heifers at 32.25.

A few choice and prime spring slaughter lambs were steady at 31.00-31.50.

Heavy Demand Boosts Wheat And Corn Prices

Chicago (AP)—A heavy demand and short-covering lifted corn and wheat futures prices to limits for one session on the Chicago Board of Trade Thursday, but at the close both eased under profit-taking.

Oats futures also closed on a strong tone, but soybeans, soybean oil and meal were mostly irregular.

At the close, wheat was 4⅝ to 7⅜ cents a bushel higher, July 1.66⅛, corn was 4 . to 7⅛ cents higher, July 1.59.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Sales Tactics Criticized Of Savings Institutions

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER
Succumbed To Expediency

The country has been hit through a hit-and-run era in economics. In the circumstances, even the financial cooperatives, such as the mutual savings banks, have succumbed to the expediencies of superficial hucksters. By making unrealistic assumptions such as that current interest rates constitute the new norm and that savings multiply despite taxes, these institutions have created exaggerated expectations, instead of sticking to their knitting and promoting thrift. To make matters worse, some have made extraneous sales appeals by offering glamorous premium gifts in addition to interest.

Certainly the savings banks and the thrift departments of checking banks and trust companies perform an indispensable role in holding the liquid emergency reserves of many persons, including those relatively inexperienced in finance.

Such institutions provide stability in terms of fixed dollars, and the only variation outside of currency depreciation is the rate of interest paid, which depends on market conditions. But even compound interest may not offset inflation, on the one hand, and the expectation of the saver to participate in national economic improvement, on the other.

Accordingly, there is need for balance in saving plans, with some funds earmarked for claims in dollars, such as savings deposits and government bonds, and others placed in proprietory relationships which promise involvement in the growth of the national economy, such as common stocks, convertible issues, and real estate.

Compared Results

The Mutual Funds Forum of the Investment Company Institute compared results over a 21-year period of mutual funds with their ups and downs and the dollar steadiness of savings funds bearing 5% interest. In each case an investment of $10,000 was assumed, but the mutual fund comparison was credited with only $9,150, the net after deduction of an 8½% load. The selection of mutual funds was based on a broad average choice, and the study assumed that dividends and capital gain distributions were reinvested. Similarly, interest returns on savings deposits were retained.

The comparison started with the year 1959, and included the years of falling stock prices 1957, 1962, 1966, 1969, and 1970. But after the recorded losses of $29,701 reported in these five adverse years for the mutual funds, they ended up with total net gains of $70,237, against the increment from compound interest in the savings of $17,863.

In commenting on the foregoing Investment Company Institute presentation, the United Mutual Fund Selector concluded: "The lesson from this is that it generally pays to stick your neck out a bit and choose the not-so-smooth and not-so-safe road to investing. Over the long run, the trend of the stock market — and therefore of most mutual funds — has been strongly upward, despite interim declines, each of which looked like a major disaster at the time."

Balanced Plan

It seems to me to be an unwarranted conclusion from the study that mutual funds are beter than savings accounts. I think the survey, on the contrary, points to the need of a balanced financial plan. Since the saver does not know precisely when future personal and family emergencies will occur and some may indeed take place during financial storms, savings accounts, like insurance, play an essential role in providing a modicum of economic security.

Even though the long term trend of averages of good stocks and of well run mutual funds tends to be upward, it is a fallacy to think that random selection will be dependable. Any assumption that the investor can pick stocks by tossing coins is dangerous. A survey of 1,200 stocks of companies listed in a standard manual indicates that only 16% of the stocks showed a gain in the last 10 years. Some in this minority showed spectacular advances, but 84% proved disappointing.

Thus, skill in selection is at a premium. The ability of fund managements to perform this function can be gleaned from past performance in the manual. But the record shows that the same funds don't hold top leadership positions in all phases of financial markets. Furthermore, time erodes the management image, with normal attrition causing a change of officers and employees.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Third District '69 Medicare Payments Total $17,793,737

Washington (UPI) — Medicare benefit payments in the Third Congressional District during 1969 totaled $17,793,737, Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., said.

The money represents that paid for hospital and-or medical insurance benefits during the year, Martin said.

The sum paid was nearly 35% of the state's total. The Third District had more than 70,000 beneficiaries.

The 61 counties of the district, with number of beneficiaries and amounts of payments in 1969, include:

General Motors Recalls Vehicles To Fix Defects

Detroit (UPI) — General Motors Corp. Thursday recalled 19,000 trucks and 900 school buses to correct possible safety defects. Between 50 and 55 persons have been injured in accidents involving the vehicles, GM said.

Altogether, 101 clutch failures occurred in the vehicles, a company spokesman said.

"In a lot of cases that were investigated, there was considerable evidence of improper shifting technique, neglected maintenance and I guess our feeling is now that regardless of these causes, we feel we've got a much better flywheel and clutch assembly today," he said.

The vehicles recalled were medium and heavy-duty GMC trucks and rear-engine school buses produced in the 1960 through 1965 model years. The vehicles may require replacement of a 14-inch flywheel and single plate clutch assembly, GM said.

Thefts Of Series E Bonds Rise, Officials Testify

©The New York Times

Washington — Senior officials of the Treasury Department said Thursday that thefts of Series E government bonds have risen alarmingly in recent years. But they said that the pilfering of large-denomination Treasury securities traded in financial markets was on the decline.

Assistant Secretary Eugene T. Rossides told a Senate subcommittee that 370,000 stolen Series E bonds, the small denomination bonds usually bought by private citizens, are still in circulation. He said the number of thefts under investigation by the Secret Service, which is part of the Treasury, is up 50% this year over last year.

Fiscal Assistant Secretary John K. Carlock asserted, however, that thefts of readily negotiable Treasury securities had dropped from over $30 million in 1969 to about $3 million so far this year due to greater precautions.

Rossides and Carlock, followed by William J. Casey, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, testified before the permanent subcommittee on investigations headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Thursday's hearing was the third in a series on the operations of organized crime in stolen securities.

During the hearing, marked discrepancies in the statistics on stolen securities appeared between those given by the Treasury officials and those earlier submitted from the FBI's Naitonal Crime Information Center.

Members of the subcommittee suggested that agencies of the executive branch were not informing one another or cooperating effectively to reduce the stealing. Rossides promised that a full investigation would be made and a full accounting would be given to the subcommittee.

Rossides testified that the Secret Service received 16,200 savings bond cases for investigation last year, up from 7,291 in 1966. The majority of the thefts were from homes and offices, but many, he said, were blank bonds stolen from banks, post offices, and mail shipments.

Before, Rossides said, criminals usually discarded savings bonds stolen in robberies. But, he continued, "stolen bonds are now considered to be valuable merchandise by the criminal element in our society."

"Stolen savings bonds are frequently sold to a fence for a small percentage of their face value. The fence then distributes the stolen bonds, on a consignment basis, to forger. Counterfeit identification documents are usually supplied to the forgers to aid in the fraudulent negotiation of the bonds," he testified.

5 Students Killed During Protests In Mexico City

Mexico City (AP) — Students clashed with police and other students Thursday night and hospitals reported at least five young persons were shot dead and nearly 100 injured.

The government moved 2,000 troops and several armored vehicles to areas near the national palace downtown while other groups of young persons surged into the streets.

Shooting erupted Thursday evening near a teachers college where police intervened in a clash between demonstrators and opponents.

Pentagon Wants Newscasts Taped

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon is advertising for bids from small business firms in the Washington, D.C., area to record verbatim "all newscasts emanating from all major metropolitan area radio and TV stations."

The advertisement appeared in the May 20 issue of Commerce Business Daily and was noted Thursday by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who demanded an explanation from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

"While it is interesting that the Pentagon is seeking to involve the free enterprise system in its snooping activities, it is truly alarming that the defense establishment is getting ready to stretch out another surveillance tentacle," Proxmire said.

Proxmire said he wanted to know why such recordings are needed by the Defense Department and what use will be made of them.

The Pentagon said that since 1963 it has contracted to private firms the job of monitoring network news broadcasts in Washington for stories involving the State Department, such as those dealing with Vietnam, military appropriations or military-connected legislation.

The contract comes up for renewal each year. Last year Radio TV Reports, Inc., of Washington was awarded the contract for $20,000.

Each day the firm prepares a written summary of the previous night's network news which is distributed to key officials "to keep them informed on what's being said about us," a Pentagon spokesman said. Copies also are distributed to newsmen who cover the Defense Department.

A similar summary is prepared by the Pentagon itself, containing clips of Pentagon-related stories from major newspapers.

"There is no ulterior motive here," the spokesman said. "It's just a way of keeping informed."

The name CUT-RATE TRAILER SALES means high quality at a low price. We are the largest volume dealers in the nation and we sell homes at just enough profit to stay in business. Our mark-up over cost is so small, you just have to get more for your more. You may beat our price, but not what you get for that price.
We invite you to shop and compare, you won't believe what you find. We sell homes for $4500 that other dealers price at $5500. We don't make give-aways that you pay for, and we don't promise rent-free lots. We won't sell a home without 10 percent down, but we will give you the best buy for your money. Our new sign isn't up yet, but you'll find us at 2440 West "O" on the old Homestead sales lot. 18c

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How to Work It

One letter simply stands for another in this example. A is used for the three L's X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is six or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
